THE ONLY CONSTANT IS CHANGE...

The only constant is change.

This adage rings particularly true in the video game industry where new technology and changing play themes dictate the difference between yesterday's has-beens and tomorrow's marvels.

We have been witness to some incredible changes in the last twelve months. Nintendo finally got around to releasing their 16-Bit Super NES, Sega scored big with Sonic the Hedgehog and NEC got "next generation" game play in an affordable package. These events don't even begin to touch on the countless number of video game carts that have appeared for all the above systems as well as the 8-Bit Nintendo and the family of portable machines now on the market. 1991 was indeed a staggering year in the world of electronic gaming.

Amazingly, as we gaze ahead to see what 1992 and 1993 have in store for gaming enthusiasts like you and me, the future just seems to get brighter. Super-charged CD-ROMs from NEC and Sega, compatible with existing game hardware as well as new formats from Sony and Phillips that take advantage of CD-I configurations promise limitless possibilities in interactive video discs. You can bet that cartridge-based systems will still get some heavy use, and we may even see some additional cart-only platforms like the Jaguar from Atari within the next twelve months.

Keeping up with the changes and introductions in the ever-expanding electronic entertainment field is no easy task - especially when you're privy to it all. But Electronic Gaming Monthly has increased its size to accommodate the latest additions to your favorite hobby so that adequate and accurate coverage can be given to all game formats. In the months to come you can look forward to even more sections devoted to higher-end gaming systems as we keep pace with the industries and enthusiasts this magazine is pledged to support.

Beginning with this issue and continuing through our March, 1992 edition, you're going to see many new changes to the familiar Electronic Gaming Monthly magazine you've been buying for the last three years. We'll be delivering more advance news from around the world, more previews of upcoming titles for American systems and continue to be the first with the hottest maps, tips and tricks available.

The most noticeable changes, however, will come in the way we present our leading edge information. Our game previews and reviews will be revamped beginning with our next issue to make them more informative as well as easier to read. Again, we're making these changes to insure that you're getting the very best video game magazine on the market in a package that is as interactive as it is useful.

Please let us know what you think about the changes we're instituting and feel free to send in your suggestions and comments on how we can make EGM even better for you. After all, our end goal is to create a publication that we can all call our own.

S-NES IN RGB

I noticed that there is a multi-pin port on the back of my Super Nintendo, where my audio/video cables plug in. Will there be other cables which will allow me to improve the game resolution? With so many pins there must be a way to connect it to an RGB monitor. Can you tell us how to upgrade from AV to RGB?

Sam Poole
Seagraves, TX

I have just read in another magazine that I can hook up my Super NES to any computer monitor but I have to special order Japanese equipment through an importer. Can I do it myself? There are just so many pins though, I can't tell which to connect. My monitor is labeled as being the VGA type. Since you are the tech experts can you help me?

Ian Silver
Coral Springs, FL

Redmond Cable - THE source for RGB game system cables!

(Ed. After our article describing the benefits of Genesis on RGB back in the May/June issue of Mega Play, the reader response has been phenomenal! Because of your strong interest we have made a lot of phone calls and came up with paydirt! Instead of trying to do it yourself, and it can be quite a project, there is a company which will make the cable up for you!

It is called Redmond Cable. They have two offices. To serve the east coast call (615) 478-5760. For the west coast call (206) 883-1430. We have tried their cables and can report they are first rate! Best of all, the cables won't cost you an arm and a leg. Expect to pay from $24 to $40. They have cables for almost any 'analog' RGB monitor and if they don't have one in stock they will make one up for you! Both they and we agree that the Commodore is the best and most popular monitor. So if you are starting from scratch, check out the Commodore 1084S.

Sorry Ian but you have been misinformed. What the other magazine failed to say is that there are several types of RGB computer monitors. Those which only have a 'digital RGB' input (VGA-type), like yours, will not work with a Genesis or S-NES as the game systems only output an 'analog RGB' signal. Trying to special order through an importer is not recommended as there are just too many different types of connectors on the U.S. monitors. And, as you can see by the Redmond Cable store which sells S-NES RGB cables, that the connections don't have to be made by Japanese equipment. For the real facts on new technology you can count on EGM.)

12 MEG S-NES CARTS?

I have watched the Genesis games go from 4 to 8 and now to 12 megabits with Accolade's Star Control. I have a Super-NES and all I see are 4 and 8 megabit games. Is Nintendo falling behind on the meg race or is it that the Super-NES with its slow processor just unable to handle the extra memory? Also, when will we see new controllers with auto fire built in? They would sure help me get through some of the new shooters!

David Bollig
Salt Lake City, UT

Dragonquest 5 will be the first 12 megabit Super Famicom game!

(Ed. Hang in there Dave! Remember it took the Genesis programmers two years to get to 12 megabit. The S-NES programmers have been going at it for a much shorter time. There is good news though! Enix of Japan, makers of the legendary Dragonquest series (Dragon Warrior in the U.S.) have announced that the fifth in the series will be on the S-NES and that it will be 12 megabits! Enix of America hasn't announced if they will do a U.S. version yet.

It is just a matter of time before we start to see more controllers here in the U.S. While there are a few in Japan now, companies are waiting until there are enough S-NES systems in the homes to make it worth while to bring out a new controller.)

GREAT ARCADE COVERAGE

The ultimate magazine is now that much better. I especially must compliment you on your new feature, Leading Edge! Until now, your arcade coverage was average at best. Some of my favorite games are coin-op machines like Street Fighter 2. I really appreciate the new section. Keep up the great work.

Mathew Robinson
Clemmons, NC

(Ed. As you can see in this issue we are the only game mag. who can display the AAMA seal. That means you can expect to see a lot more great arcade coverage in the near future!)

SUPER GUN

I was at my favorite video game store when something caught my eye. On the counter there was a new Japanese system that boasted you can play actual arcade games in your own home and they had Street Fighter 2 set up. There is only one problem with this system and that is it costs $1,149. It said it was a 32 bit system. I was wondering if you could tell me more about this great system.

Paul Goff

Toronto, Ontario

(Ed. We've known about this system for some time but waited till we knew more about it. One of the popular names for this system is Super Gun. Made in Taiwan, this system is basically an interface to an arcade game mother board. What you get for your money is a "black box", a controller and a cable to connect the box to the arcade board. The reason the system costs so much is the fact that you are buying the arcade mother board. Street Fighter 2 is not cheap. That alone costs over $1,000.

The Super Gun connects to an arcade board for play at home.

From our experience, you certainly get the ultimate in game playing as you have the coin-op minus the cabinet and monitor. We, however, are very reluctant to endorse this product. It has come to our attention that some companies are selling illegal counterfeit "rip-off" Street Fighter 2 mother boards as part of the Super Gun package. For anybody who is thinking about buying the system, it is very easy to check if you are getting the real arcade board - the name Capcom is all over the chips and board. If the chips are unnamed, odds are the company is selling the rip-off board. Penalties are very severe for people dealing in counterfeit boards and for those who buy the product. As such, we can't endorse the Super Gun. It isn't a 32 bit game system either.)

SMS GAMES ON GAME GEAR

I've heard rumors that there is an adapter which fits on the back of the Game Gear that let's you play Master System games on it. Is this true? If it is, it would add at least 50 more titles. I for one, would like to know as many of the old Master System games are real cheap here in New York! Could you please look into this rumor?

Nick Kovach

Tulsa, OK

(Ed. We've heard that rumor too, and started calling around to see if we could get one. No problem! Called the

The Master Gear Converter does what it says!

Master Gear Converter and made it Taiwan, this device clips into the GG cart slot and rests on the back of the GG. For extra strength, the converter also has a screw which tightens into the threaded hole on the back of the GG. Just slide your SMS cart into the converter and turn on the power! Best of all...it works! Granted some of the text is unreadable because it is so small on the GG screen but many of the old favorites like Alien Syndrome, Afterburner and Alex Kidd work fine. If you want to get one, Video Game Excitement is selling the converters for about $50. You can call them at (212) 222-5584.)

FIRST IS BEST!

After reading through your December issue I had to write to tell you that I was truly amazed. Not only was it the third month in a row when you completely devastated the competition on number of pages (I like to get my money's worth in a magazine), but your coverage of new games was exceptional. Hey, nobody else has even talked about Heavy Nova, Terminator, Trouble Shooter and Turtles 3, yet alone shown pages of pictures and storyline. But what really blew me away was the 4 pages on Street Fighter 2 (Where were the other 4 pages - you said there would be 8 pages!) How are you going to top this super issue?

Andrew Runnels

River Edge, NJ

(Ed. As you can see in this issue we have been able to round up a few carts which should really turn a few heads in 1992. Zelda 3; Contra 4; Alien Wars; Xardion; Raiden; Robinson Basketball; Winter Challenge; Gargoyle's Quest and Ballistix are but a few of the games which the companies let EGM take a pre-CES peek. And, to keep you busy reading for a while, for the fourth month in a row, we topped 200 pages! Finally, we didn't forget! The next four pages on Street Fighter 2 are in this issue!)

TOO MUCH SEGA...

I've been a fan of EGM since it's second issue. As I watched EGM grow, the contents got better and better. So, of course, I was excited to see issue 27 top 200 pages.

But as I paged through it I was disappointed to see that half of it was Sega. If I wanted to read an all Sega mag, I'd buy an all Sega mag. If you want to look on the bright side, it took EGM over two years to let a die-hard fan down.

P.S. Because you only print complements this probably won't make it in, but I wanted to tell you my thoughts.

John Gilbertson
Minnetonka, MN

(Ed. Since you've been reading EGM for some time, you know we occasionally run special inserts. That issue it was Sega Force. The issue before, it was NEC. The issue after, it was Neo-Geo and Atari. While any one issue may have more coverage for one system because of inserts, over a period of months it all evens out! Look at it this way, rip out the Sega Force and throw it away. What is left is still equal to the size of the other mags that month!)

don't like Nintendo (most lawsuits) and especially the Super Nintendo game system (best new system a year late and, best slowdown without a special controller). I have the Super Nintendo and I don't think it is a bad system, especially when the games use the Mode 7 feature.

Wilson Blake
Tempe, AZ

One of the reasons why I get EGM every month is that you have the guts to state an opinion. Your reviews rip games when they deserve it, and just last month, your awards state which game system is the best. No bull. None of the wimpy... it's too early to tell, or... hard to say, or... it's a draw. I have all three systems and I find myself playing the Genesis the most. Keep on telling it like it is.

Sam Ryan
Buffalo, NY

Without getting into a big debate as to which game system is the best, I have to compliment you on making and stating what you think is the best. You are the experts, and it's your job to know games. Players like myself look for expert opinions to help me make a decision. Very few people can afford to buy and support all three systems and everybody who is looking at the new systems can use all the help they can get as, in the end, they will walk out of the store with only one system. What irks me is the fact that none of the other magazines will state which game system, in their expert opinion, is the best. It's like a doctor saying that spot on your X-ray may or may not be cancer. One recently had us read through several pages only to find out that their conclusion calls it a draw between Super NES and Genesis. Get real! Thank you EGM for doing your job.

Harold Vaughn
Danville, CA

(Ed. It's always informative to read through the hundreds of letters that we get right after we publish our awards. Excluding those readers with obvious biases, the vast majority of the players like the fact that we have an opinion and that we are able to call a bad product bad.)

EGM AWARD TIME...

Thank you for finally telling everybody which is really the best system. I also liked the Gradius 3 slowdown award.

Jeremy Vantassell
Brampton, Ontario

I can't see why Super Mario World didn't win the best game of the year award. I mean 96 worlds! Come on EGM, I've been working on this game for several weeks now and I am only up to 73 worlds. When Sonic came out I beat the game on the second day I played it. Now which is the better value? With Mario I at least am getting my money's worth.

Josh Baxter

Super NES - Sunsoft Lemmings
Type:Puzzle Release: Jan.
Levels: 125 Difficulty:Avg.

Sunsoft has translated Lemmings, originally on the computer format, for the Super Nintendo System. Take control of a wild group of brainless rodents as they make their way through an endless variety of environments. Have the lead lemming perform certain tasks to assure that the rest of the pack survive. A large selection of levels, multiple endings and a two player option make Lemmings a hit!

Despite the fact that this game doesn't have great action or spectacular graphics, the puzzles that must be solved at the expense of the tiny Lemmings are appealing and unique. What looks like another boring game is really an inspired brain-twister that has hundreds of hours of life.

I love a good puzzle game and Lemmings is one of the best! Besides having tons of challenging levels, the multiple difficulty settings offer even more to advanced players. The pass-word eliminates repeating levels over and over and adds to the enjoyment. But the best is the two player option!

Lemmings is a cute game and it has a lot of original ways to kill off the little guys, but the game is just not for me. The music is good, but can get kind of annoying after awhile. The game play is good if you don't mind the typical Super NES slowdown feature. Fun the first time you play it.

Make way for one of the best computer to video game translations ever! While Lemmings suffers the trademark slowdown of the Super NES, you will quickly fall in love with the cute, innocent Lemmings. The graphics and music are superb and the challenge is out of this world!

Super NES - Tradewest Super Off Road
Type:Driving Release: Jan.
Levels: 16 Difficulty:Avg.

Get ready for some serious Super Off Road action at home. Tradewest has faithfully reproduced the popular arcade version for Super Nintendo players. Take on a large variety of tracks as you race against three other opponents. Hop up your truck with the money you earn through racing and finishing in the top three. An excellent home version with smooth graphics and a superb soundtrack too!

Although this game has the look and feel of the arcade hit down pretty good, there really isn't a lot of diversity in the action, ultimately slowing down the long-term enjoyment of the game. The music is incredible, though, and fans of the arcade version should have a great time.

Super Off Road in the arcade was OK but the cars were small. The S-NES version is a good conversion but the cars are still small. The player control of the car is very good and keeps a player going even if most of the tracks are basically the same. Unbelievable music!

Super Off Road has the coolest music of any SNES game. The graphics are detailed but are small. The game play is OK and fast paced. The game is very intense and you'll find that winning the race can be a lost cause. Again the music really rocks with awesome digitized 5ths.

Surprisingly enough, Super Off Road is an excellent translation of the smash hit coin-op. Slow-down isn't an apparent problem here, and the graphics are crisp. The new tracks offer a better challenge for experienced players. Sadly, it's nearly impossible to finish first.

Wipe the smile off this face!

(And maybe a few of your friends, too!)

Here's your chance to wipe the smiles off those annoying happy faces once and for all! In FaceBall 2000, "Have a Nice Day" takes on a whole new meaning — in first-person perspective, with 3D graphics and 360° maneuvering!

Nintendo - Acclaim Bart vs. the World

Type: Action Release: Jan.
Levels: 6 Difficulty: Hard

Bart is back and this time he's travelling the world! Bart has won the Springfield art contest and now he gets to go on a Krusty the Clown treasure hunt. The contest was judged by Mr. Burns and he wants to wipe the Simpsons off the face of the Earth. Bart must journey to six different lands and collect Krusty artifacts from each country. Bart vs. the World should please all fans of the original Bart Simpson game!

While the qualities of the original Simpson's game were questionable, this game is put together poorly. You travel the world working out a variety of simple puzzles in scrolling action sequences that feature haphazard interaction and only minor challenge. Could have been much better.

The first game had some very good spots where you had to think about how to proceed. This version is more of a straight action game, and may appeal to some, but the majority of players will blow through this quickly. Too easy of a game and at best only average.

The first Simpson's game wasn't that great and I expected some improvement from the second one. As you can tell I was let down. The graphics are choppy, the music is substandard and the play control is frustrating like the first. The only reason this one will sell is the name.

Bart vs the World is a disappointing new adventure for the ultimate brat, Bart Simpson! The idea is great, and the cinema displays help, but the actual game play and music are horrible! Even the SNES is capable of far better than this! Only small children will like this cart.

Nintendo - Ultra Games Nightshade

Type: RPG Release: Jan.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Hard

Metro City was a quiet place for everyone until the crime lords moved in. The police couldn't even help. Crime filled the streets and things got out of hand. However, there is hope as a mysterious person named Nightshade moved in. Now Nightshade must stop Sutekh from filling Metro City with crime. Ultra's new RPG will challenge players with it's unique blend of action and role play.

Another Konami/ Ultra original that melds the top quality action games that the companies are known for with a new storyline and a unique approach. It's pretty standard stuff here, but the graphics, sound and game play are all incorporated into a cart that is, above all, fun to play!

Now this game has style! It's a quest game that involves a fair amount of thinking. Lots of things to do, examine and use. A well rounded quest that has spots of brilliance and some of the solutions are downright devious. Not a game for the shoot-anything-that-moves crowd.

This game has a few cool ideas and an original type of game play that make it interesting. The control is poor and the graphics are only average for this type of game. The quest is kind of fun but only the first time around. They should of saved this one for the SNES.

Nightshade is a wonderful idea that should have been made on the Genesis or Super NES. The high-res graphics required for Nightshade just isn't possible on the 8-bit machine. The control could use a little more work, and the quest isn't very long either. Nightshade is average.

Nintendo - Lucasfilm Defenders of Dynatron City

Type: Action Release: Feb.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Avg.

Dynatron City is under siege from Dr. Mayhem, and it's up to the Defenders to save the city. Choose Jet Headstrong, Radium Dog, or Ms. Megawatt as your leader then get Toolbox, Monkey Kid, and Buzzsaw Girl as your other characters. There are different missions to accomplish before fighting Dr. Mayhem. If crime fighting is your interest, then check out Defenders of Dynatron City.

This game does possess many of the features you'll find in the best action games but the execution and overall composition of the title come up short. What you're left with is a very average cart that does very little to break the molds of previous titles within this genre.

Unfortunately this cart just never gets off the starting blocks. It doesn't have any unique features and is just another action game. Perhaps it will appeal to the very young or those who are into Saturday morning cartoons but I, for one, just wasn't impressed.

If this cart were released 3 years ago it would be considered substandard. The game play reminds me of Heroes of the Lance and the graphics are definitely below average. The game just doesn't have any cool features unless you like being a hammerhead.

Defenders of Dynatron City should go back to the drawing boards! This game is truly bad in all respects. The graphics are substandard, the music is shoddy, and the game play is non-existent. If you want a taste of the what a game shouldn't be, Defenders of Dynatron City is it!

A DVENTURES OF LOLO 3

The journey continues! The game preferred by the best and the brightest is back with a brand new installment. See if you qualify!

- Seventeen levels, one hundred rooms.
- Play as either Lolo or Lala.
- Underwater levels with new challenges.
- Lolo's Grandpa teaches you the tricks of the game.
- New tactics, techniques and characters.

Nintendo - LJN Roger Clemens MVP Baseball

Type: Sports Release: Jan.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Avg.

If you're looking for a new thrill in Nintendo baseball games, check out LJN's Roger Clemens MVP Baseball. Choose your division and team, then check out the pitching roster and starting line-up. When the ball is hit into the field, the view changes so it looks like you're in center field. A truly cool effect! Roger Clemens even has a voice to call out the plays. Roger Clemens MVP Baseball will be here soon!

LJN needs to be given credit for putting some originality into this overdone game theme, but unfortunately many of the innovations that they've made, including multiple perspectives and various play angles do more to complicate rather than improve previous play concepts.

This is probably the most original NES baseball game to date. The multiple angles are well done but it will take some time to get used to them. The game shows baseball and plays one of the best versions to date. A very good version that isn't just a rehash of last year's game.

This is a pretty cool baseball game for the NES. While it is extremely difficult to make a good baseball game for any system this one is pretty good. The different perspectives are cool but make the game play somewhat confusing. To me this is just another average baseball game.

Roger Clemens' MVP Baseball has a unique perspective change, but you will quickly become confused and tired. At times you won't know which base you're throwing to. The fielding is cool once you get the hang of it, but that doesn't make up for its shortcomings.

Genesis - Electronic Arts John Madden '92

Type: Sports Release: Dec.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Avg.

John Madden is back for his second round of football fun! In John Madden '92, the same great play control is here, as are the superb graphics and animation. With many different play choices to use, you can pull many of the tricks in the original John Madden. An instant replay screen shows the last play made. You can also watch the play from many different camera angles! Football fans, watch for this one!

The original Madden football game still ranks as one of the top games I've ever played and Madden '92 takes the game play of the original to even greater heights. The opponents are now more difficult, players can be hurt and digitized crowds cheer you on! Absolutely excellent!

EA knows sports! The first Madden was perfect and this version improves on it. There's nothing better on the market for any format! Nuff said!

Go away Joey. Madden does it two years in a row. This is the best football game available for any system. It has great graphics and sound effects and the best play control around. Add in an instant replay and you got the best of the best. More of what football fans want.

Hail, Madden! Madden '92 destroys the competition once more with a football title light-years ahead of its predecessor! The plays are better, the players smarter! Let's not forget that Instant Replay! I can't wait for Madden '93 or maybe a Madden Classic with players from the past.

Genesis - Sega Joe Montana 2

Type: Sports Release: Nov.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Avg.

Go back for the pass and turn up the volume on your T.V. Joe Montana 2 is here and this game is really talking up a storm. Listen to the announcer as he calls the play-by-plays with real speech! There's even a halftime "talk" show. Joe Montana also has a zooming feature that closes in on the player with the ball. This changes the looks of the game and makes it more realistic. Joe Montana 2 is on it's way!

Although this game is sure to amaze you with it's vocal play-by-plays, this unique gimmick wears thin quickly. With the voice gone, you're left with a football game that features two viewpoints for no good reason and game play that pales in comparison to the graphics.

It's hard to out-Madden Madden without looking like a clone. Sega gets credit though, for coming out with a much, much better version of Montana. The voice is great as is the zoom feature. The game plays better than every other football game... except one. Perhaps Joe on CD?

The graphics have been improved from the last Montana and even the game play is better. The voices are a cool enhancement but get a bit repetitive after 5 minutes of play. If you turn the voices off it's nothing more than an average playing, average looking football cart.

Joe Montana 2's only plus is the play-by-play announcing feature. I wouldn't be surprised to see it in more sports games in the future. Unfortunately, even though Montana 2 is better than the first game, it's not even close to Madden '92. There's always next year, Joe!

Genesis - Electronic Arts F-22 Interceptor

Type: Simul. Release: Now
Levels: 7 Difficulty: Hard

Crank up those afterburners and launch some missiles because F-22 Interceptor is making its debut on the Genesis. A first person perspective cockpit display and animated sequences between missions put this cart in a league all its own! Choose from several different missions and seek out the enemy. Try the Iraq scenario and save our troops! F-22 is on its way from Electronic Arts!

This game is not a high-speed shoot-out but instead it's one of the smoothest, most detailed flight simulators I've ever seen on a home game system. A variety of campaigns can be selected and you can even control real weapons, reminiscent of those used in the gulf war.

Now this game is good! Afterburner was cool but F-22 adds strategy. It's not easy but good simulations aren't meant to be finished off in a few hours. The alternate view is a nice feature but for the most part I found myself glued to the cockpit view. EA has another winner!

At first I didn't think there was much to F-22, but after I got into it I found a lot of cool features. The different camera angles are very cool, especially when you follow the missile to its target. The missions are long and the enemy explosions are awesome.

F22 isn't a spectacular flight simulator, but it is better than most. Few simulator come off very well on the Genesis, and that's really a mystery to everyone. The graphics are decent, and so is the control. Sadly, a flight simulator should be more than decent.

Genesis - Mentrix Cal. 50

Type: Shooter Release: Dec.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Easy

Your fighter crashed into enemy territory twenty years ago. You attempted to escape the lush, jungle environment but were captured. Now, it's time for you to escape your captors and make your way to freedom. Bring your trusty machine gun and waste anyone who gets in your way! Cal. 50 has a large scrolling landscape and many enemies to shoot at as you make a break for your awaiting freedom!

I have to admit up front that I was never a big fan of the arcade original, but as a home game, Caliber .50 is even less impressive. Most of the action is in place, with some differences in the graphics, and it does offer a decent blast, but the play mechanics left me wanting more.

Cal. 50 is a good shooter. Lots of power-ups and there are always things to shoot at. It's graphics are well done and colorful and the game is easy to play. Unfortunately, it is too easy and good players will blow through it very quickly. Still it delivers good game play and decent action.

This cart just seems bland to me. The graphics are nothing special and neither is the music. There are a couple of cool power-ups but all in all there isn't much exciting here. If a rotary control were available for the Genesis it would've improved this cart greatly.

Cal. 50 has some marvelous graphics like that of the cool coin-op, but to really play like the arcade classic, you need a rotating joystick. To compensate for this handicap, Cal. 50 was made easier. In fact, so easy, anyone can finish a char one or two games! Ouch, that hurt!

Genesis - Electronic Arts Robocod

Type: Action Release: Dec.
Levels: 14+ Difficulty: Avg.

Pond, James Pond, also known as Robocod, is on a mission of utmost urgency. Christmas will be ruined, and it's all because of a ruthless band of penguins who have decided to take Santa's toys from his workshop. Robocod must find the penguins and stop them from stealing more toys. Robocod features over 14 levels of action and plenty of challenge. James Pond II: Robocod is a hit!

In this sequel to James Pond, our underwater spy now has a number of enhanced features that improve upon the original game. It's still a seek and destroy mission as you take on fishy foes looking for target firms to complete the levels. Not the greatest action game but far from the worst.

The original Pond was a little too cute. It's good to see that EA has added more to this sequel and made it acceptable for a broader audience. Great action, fantastic backgrounds, a wide variety of different levels and decent game play set this game head and fin above the rest.

I didn't like the first Pond adventure at all. The sequel is totally cool! I love the new techniques and the bosses are huge and silly. The best thing about it is the game play, it is really fun to play and the different level have plenty of variety. Can't wait for Pond 3.

As the only reviewer who found some humor in the first James Pond adventure, I must say that Robocod is a definite improvement. Kids will love the high quality graphics and cartoonish tones, and diehard gamers will have fun with the huge level bosses! Robocod is just fun.

GameBoy - Ultra T.M.N.T. 2

Type: Action Release: Jan.
Levels: 5 Difficulty: Avg

Those heroes in a halfshell are back for their second adventure on the GameBoy. T.M.N.T. 2: Back from the Sewers continues the series with traditional Turtles action. Choose your turtle and head off to save April O'Neil from the clutches of Shredder. Make your way through the detailed landscapes and pick up some pizza power ups along the way. Watch out for Bebop and Rocksteady!

This game has great side-scrolling action, spectacular graphics, good sound and play mechanics that, while familiar, are executed with sterling quality. Guide the turtles against their mortal enemy, take on the Bosses under Shredder and collect pizza power along the way. Cowabunga!

There's one basic law to sequels. In order to be a hit, the sequel should be better than the original. In the turtle's case, the sequel just doesn't have the challenge and excitement found in the first. And of like the 2 turtle movies. This is better than average cart but not a great cart.

Cowajunk! If I were a turtle I'd be hiding in my shell right now. The graphics and animation are cheesy and the game play is a big step down from the first Turtles GB cart. The music and sound effects are very good, but cool tones do not make a good game. Sorry Splinter.

Game Boy games are bad enough thanks to the terrible graphics limitations, but why make a game that exploits this crippling facet of the big N's portable machine? TMNT 2 is a farce through and through, and I wouldn't recommend it for anything. Nothing excites me here.

GameBoy - Bullet Proof Soft. Faceball 2000

Type: Action Release: Jan.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Hard

Have you ever had enough of those silly smiley faces? Well, now you can blow them away with Bullet-Proof Software's Faceball 2000! Choose one of four different shaped smiley faces and set off to attack your foes. Cyberscape and Arena are the two different modes of play. In Arena, the smiley faces shoot back. An awesome soundtrack and smooth graphics compliment this new cart. Have a nice day!!

Personally I find the whole concept behind this game to be rather boring. Winding your way through mazes to blast down happy faces isn't exactly my idea of a good time although in the multi-player mode, where the other faces use your friends, the game gets better. It's original at least!

Spectacular! Get three friends together and have a blast. Even though I like puzzle games I have to say that as a one player game - forget it! You're just a rat in a first person perspective maze. But, as a multi-player game, there is no equal! This is one of the best party games made!

This is a totally unique game. If you're having a stressful day at work or school why not blow away a few smiley faces. Not much in terms of game play but it's kind of fun to blow away three of your friends. This is the kind of game that the GameBoy is made for.

For those of us who enjoyed games of Cops and Robbers or Cowboys and Indians, Faceball 2000 is here! Up to four people can play, so the challenge is ever-present!! The graphics are perfect for this type of game, and the control is excellent. This is the electronic paint ball war!

Lynx - Atari Crystal Mines 2

Type: Action Release: Jan.
Levels: NA Difficulty: Avg

Mining for crystals has never been like this! Crystal Mines for the Atari Lynx is a puzzle/strategy game involving a speedy robot and creatures. The object is to grab as many crystals as you can, but watch out for the creatures who are out to stop you! Bash through the dirt and drop boulders on the creatures to score more points. If you want strategy and action in one cart, try Crystal Mines for your Atari Lynx!

This game is more akin to Chip's Challenge than just about any other puzzler I've played. You must collect the various objects necessary on each level before exiting the round, all the while guiding your robot alterego around the hazards that exist. Will be a favorite of all puzzle nuts.

There's really nothing new or spectacular about this cart. Average graphics, average challenge and average game play. The original NES cart wasn't spectacular, and the Lynx version does nothing to change my opinion of the game concept. The password keeps it from being boring.

This cart doesn't have any spectacular graphics or fantastic sounds but it does have solid game play and lots of techniques. The puzzles remind me of Dig Dug and has an old arcade flair to it. The password feature is cool as well and help you finish its numerous levels.

Any Dig Dug or Mr. Do! fans out there? Well, if you want the perfect blend of these two classic titles, Crystal Mines 2 is the one! You'll enjoy hours of puzzle fun and utilize the password feature many times before you finish this game for the Lynx. A must for Lynx owners.

CRUSH THE WORLD'S GREATEST FIGHTERS WITH YOUR THUMB.

Ken Norton, Heavyweight Champion 1976; George Foreman, Heavyweight Champion 1973-74; Larry Holmes, Heavyweight Champion, 1978-85; Joe Frazier, Heavyweight Champion, 1970-73, Muhammad Ali, Heavyweight Champion, 1964-67, 1974-76, 1978-79.

Ali, Norton, Holmes, Frazier and Foreman are ready to pound your face... or, thumb. You can be them or battle them. Each champ looks and fights like the real thing. Ali floats like a butterfly and stings like a bee. Foreman puts his weight into devastating round-house punches.

Teunt them if you've got the guts. Move and jab, or go toe-to-toe and rearrange their faces with nose bloodying hooks, jaw shattering uppercuts, and rib-cracking body shots. Block punches or clinch to protect yourself. Between round closeups show each boxer's facial damage.

If exhibition matches aren't enough for you, fight an entire 15-year career. Crush these five formidable boxing greats and POW! you're a champton forever.

Come out swinging but don't hit the guy in the tux.

BOXING CHAMPIONS FOREVER

He's lean. He's mean. He's André Panza and he's out for blood. Every move he makes is from digitized film footage from his greatest kicks and punches. So you're not fighting some namby pamby, make-believe video kick boxing creep. You're duking it out with the master, 3-time World Kick Boxing Champion André Panza.

If you're not ready for Panza, whtp yourself into shape with training and conditioning sessions. Then battle through the ranks of 8 international champions.

Watch your head! An assault!

André Panza KICK BOXING

Over 40 mind-blowing punches and kicks allow you to customize your assault. Once you've honed and sharpened your moves, take on Panza himself for the ultimate ktkc boxing challenge.

So what are you waiting for? Chtkcen? Then get Champions Forever Boxing and André Panza Kick Boxing and start rearranging some faces with your thumb.

...NEC To Launch DUO CD-ROM System...Atari Jaguar Processor Unveiled...Sega Mega CD-ROM Release...
...New Super NES Games From Lucas...Game Genie For Genesis...Street Fighter 2 Update...X-Men Coin-Op...

...Well, pull my pudding, it's another excited episode of the Quartermann show - replete with all the dirt on the hottest gaming developments and inside info! As always, the Q-Mann is back with the straight scoop on the greatest gossip you can find - the hard-hitting stories you can read about again in the other magazines months from now! Hardware heads are in for a special treat this month as yours truly delivers some super secret updates on several new systems!...Firing first, NEC is set to debut the first CD-ROM/game system all-in-one next year with the introduction of their DUO machine. This Turbo/CD-ROM rips along with a larger memory buffer (a full Two Meg) and is rumored to hit with a special CD featuring the company's four TV Sports titles all on one disk! Price is still unknown to the Q-Mann, as well as the execs at NEC, but all indications point to it arriving in the $299-$399 range...

...Still on the subject of new mega-machines, the elusive Atari Jaguar that Mr. Q. first announced months ago is finally starting to materialize as an upscale computer/game machine. In addition to using a keyboard with the option of CD-ROM and tape upgrades, the Jaguar will also use the dual 32-Bit processors as previously announced within the architecture of a RISC processor! These types of computer processors are well-known for their incredible speed. While this should help the machine play better games, it is doubtful that the games will be made any faster than Atari usually gets them done - RISC processor or no RISC processor...While we're still rapping on hardware, the Q-Minator has discovered that Sega will NOT be showing their Mega-CD player at the upcoming CES in Las Vegas! While this has raised speculation behind potential delays in the system's US release (it's already on Japanese store shelves) the more probable reason has to do with the unit's price. It's yet to be firmed up, but it's doubtful the big 'S' will be able to cruise in under $300!...

...A variety of new game titles will start showing up on various systems in the months to come, chief among the hottest hitters is Star Wars for the Super NES. The game has great graphics, including actual intermissions from the movie! Also check out Chester Cheetah for the Sega Genesis from Kaneko, with a promotional tie-in between the company and Frito-Lay, Chester's parent company. Other movies to games just over the horizon are Alien 3, Robocop 3 and Addams' Family for the Super NES!...Look for Galoob to unveil a new Game Genie compatible with both the Sega Genesis and Nintendo Super NES! Both of these cartridge enhancers will employ the same basic system as their NES counterpart...

...The biggest game title now in development is Street Fighter 2 from Capcom. The carbon-copy translation of the all-out arcade super-hit will hit store shelves in June or July for the Nintendo 16-Bit Super NES. Also get your rhubarbs ready for the home translation of Magic Sword as well as a 16-Bit Mega Man adventure...My, my Mr. Martin, your muffins really impressed me...Get ready for the X-Men to appear soon at an arcade near you! This two-screen, six-player mega-machine casts you in the role of any one of six different X-Men stars as you battle an unending series of foes and thugs with game play reminiscent of the two Turtles coin-op hits...Quartermann gives Acclaim's latest 16-Bit soft, Smash TV a serious thumbs-up! Tons of enemies, no slow-down and no flicker (until you play a two-player combo game) combine to make this one of the best arcade to home conversions the Quartermann has ever seen...

...That wraps up this episode of the Quartermann show - I'm packin' my bags and heading East to attend the Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas! Get set for my complete report in the next issue of EGM as well as the first info on a what's hot and what's not! 'Till we meet again, try not to de-rez...

MEGA CD/MEGA DRIVE COMBO UNIT IN FINAL STAGES OF DEVELOPMENT

EGM, through it's World Net sources, has learned that the all-in-one Mega CD-ROM/Mega Drive is in it's final stages of development. This combo unit is being produced by JVC of Japan.

While neither Sega of Japan nor JVC of Japan have issued official press releases, nor are either presently willing to discuss the technical specifications or the final shape of the combined game system and CD-ROM drive, EGM's World Net sources who have been following the development of the combo system ever since it's first announcement have been able to get basic information about how the system will be configured.

Sources tell us that JVC could design the combo in two different ways.

The first, and most conservative design, would look very much like the current Sega game system/CD-ROM separates when they are stacked on top of each other. This design would be the more expensive of the two possible configurations. Although all of the circuitry would be combined on one new mother board, and this would help reduce production costs, that savings would be cancelled out by having a front loading CD compartment.

The other configuration would be designed around two factors. Cost, wherever possible would be kept to a minimum. Gone would be the expensive front mounted, motor driven slide out drawer for CD loading, and, a less expensive hinged top loading design, as used in the PC Engine Duo and our TurboGrafx CD-ROM, would be used. Next, since the project is being done by JVC's audio/video group, it is highly probable that the ultimate design would have to blend in with their current line of A/V components. Therefore the system would be designed as a very compact package with rounded corners and smooth lines.

Price has not yet been determined but the current range being talked about is from $400 to $600. With Sega's separate Mega CD-ROM currently selling for $350 and the Mega Drive about $100, a $450 retail price is possible but not likely. Sources indicate that because of all the new technology that Sega built in to the Mega CD-ROM - a second super-fast CPU, a state-of-the-art pickup arm to keep the access times low, and the extra 6 megabits of memory, Sega is not making a lot of money on the CD-ROM. JVC may have to charge more to get back their redevelopment costs.

Whichever design JVC chooses, our sources expect an official announcement in the next 60 days. One thing is for sure though, you can count on EGM to have the information first!

In other Mega-CD news, officials at Sega have announced that they will not have the Mega-CD out on the floor for the Winter CES. Apparently U.S. software development is not far enough along to properly demonstrate the capabilities of the system. Third party licensees however, do plan to show some of their Japanese Mega CD software.

If the combo unit is to match the JVC audio/video product line the system could look like this.

Sega's Mega Drive and Mega CD-ROM as separate components. Now on sale in Japan.

NEC TO BRING OUT U.S. TURBOGRAFX DUO IN LATE 1992...? NEW PC ENGINE LT RELEASED IN JAPAN..!

NEC released its PC Engine Duo to the Japanese market late last summer. As reported in the August EG Express, this unit combines the PC Engine game machine with the new CD-ROM unit and it is now housed in one sleek wedge-shaped case. The newest update (version 3.0) to the CD-ROM system card is built in. The Duo lists for about $460 and currently sells discounted, for about $390.

EGM World Net sources close to NEC of Japan have learned that NEC of America has been negotiating with the Japanese parent company to bring out a similar version here in the U.S. Assuming that U.S. NEC can get the Duo, they still would have to submit the system to the FCC for the lengthy and time consuming RF emission tests. Then, assuming that the Duo passes the tests (meaning that the system's shape doesn't have to change, and, that the whole casing doesn't have to be remanufactured), that would put the introduction of the Duo some time in late summer or early fall.

Price would be the next consideration. It's now selling in Japan for $330 without software. For the U.S. release NEC would have to pack in a disc. This disc, as NEC has learned with the original Keith Courage pack-in cart, would have to be something spectacular. Something as good as the other pack-ins - Sonic and Mario 4. Bonk 3 isn't ready yet, shooters aren't popular enough so that leaves a quest/adventure game like Valis 4 or a sports game out of their TV Sports series, or a multi-game disc. This package could retail for $399, but if NEC really wanted to sell a lot of systems they would drop the price to $349 only $50 more than the old CD unit (which would still need the $70 2 meg system upgrade card).

NEC is quiet about the Duo but they said that they will make a formal announcement at CES (next month).

The PC Engine LT has just been released in Japan for $770.

When not in use, the PC Engine LT folds together into a compact package.

Take the folding PC Engine and combine it with the folding TV/monitor and you get a folding PC Engine LT (standing for LapTop)! As EGM exclusively covered back in August in its Tokyo Toy Show review, NEC of Japan combined both the units into the most compact complete game system yet!

The PC Engine part of the system retains the same technical specifications as the standard PC Engine, however the TV/monitor is far from ordinary. We've all seen the spectacular LCD screen in the Turbo Express but now, instead of it being a tiny 2.6" diagonal screen, it is now a much larger 4" diagonal screen. Boasting the same ultra-high resolution of its smaller brother, this spectacular monitor also can be used as a state-of-the-art television set! Get the optional cigarette lighter adapter and it can run off DC in the car.

Through the use of another adapter the LT can be connected to the CD player. This combo game system/CD-ROM drive/TV/monitor is the first all-in-one unit on the market! Talk about the ultimate yuppie toy, picture being able to play Y's 3 in the back of a car!

As for price, don't ask! The LT, when it goes on sale on December 13th (it's a Friday the 13th but who's superstitious?) the Japanese game players will be paying about $770! Why so much? Like the Turbo Express, the majority of the high cost is tied up in the ultra-high resolution screen. Unlike the standard TV screen which is one unit, the LCD screen is made up of tens of thousands of tiny LCD's, each of which has to work perfectly. And this is seldom the case.

As for the U.S., don't look for this pricey unit to come over for quite some time, if ever.

THE TERMINATOR™

Welcome to Post-Holocaust Los Angeles in the year 2029, where mutant robots pilot their crafts through the blood-red sky, hunting down human beings that once dominated this wasteland.

Just like the movie, you assume the role of Kyle Reese, a time traveller from the future who returns to modern-day L.A. to protect the life of Sarah Conner - the beautiful woman who holds the key to the survival of the human race.

Your mission: Outwit and outmaneuver a brutal killing machine known as the Terminator. He's big, he's bad and he's virtually unstoppable - let's hope you're smarter!

DICK TRACY

EXTRA! EXTRA! DICK TRACY IS BACK!

With a completely new story line, the Dick Tracy Game Boy version picks up where the popular NES game left off. And this time, he goes where ever you and your Game Boy goes.

Big Boy Caprice has escaped from prison and within hours a crime wave has hit Chicago the likes of which have never been seen. It seems that all the filth of the city has crawled out from beneath some slimy rock... the Brow, Pranceface, Flattop, Shoulders, and the rest of their ruthless cohorts are on the rampage again.

But worst of all, that dirty dealing Big Boy has kidnapped Tess Trocheart!! Suddenly, Tracy's two-way wrist radio breaks the silence. "Calling Dick Tracy! Calling Dick Tracy!" He springs from behind his desk and bursts through the squad room door shouting "O.K. boys, let's go! This could be our lucky break!"

Ultima VI and Soul Blader for Super Famicom, Shining Force for Mega Drive, plus much more!

Pony Canyon / Super Famicom ULTIMA VI

Role Playing Fans, welcome to the world of Ultima VI. Computer gaming fans will instantly recognize this epic role playing title. You play the part of a brave adventurer named Avatar. Avatar has been called back to the land of Britannia due to the Gargoyles who have infested the eight shrines. As it turns out, they are upset because the Codex of Ultimate Wisdom has been stolen by you in a previous journey. Along your mission, you must also complete some smaller tasks, such as having a Gargoyle book translated by a woman in Lycaeum, finding the second section of a pseudo-Rosetta Stone, and gather eight pieces of a treasure map to find the Stone. To help you accomplish your mission, you may recruit up to seven characters on your team.

Each character has their own personal portrait, stats, and equipment.

When entering the character stat screen, you see the portrait of your character along with the current hit points, experience, magic, dexterity, and intelligence. On the left of the picture, there is the item list that displays the armor, boots, helmets, and weapons.

The bottom row shows the icons that can operate your group, including casting magic. Find out most of your information by talking to the many people that you meet.

Ultima VI may very well be the ultimate RPG to come out for the Super Famicom. Watch for it to hit the U.S. late in 1992!

Don't Laugh-He's Probably Related to You!

Long before there was a Bedrock, there was a Chuck Rock.

But Chuck Rock hasn't been the same since his long-time rival in love, the evil Gary Gritter kidnapped his wife, the luscious Ophelia.

Kid, show rocks and belly-butt your way through a variety of comical zones featuring over 500 exciting screens of gameplay as you help Chuck in his quest to rescue Ophelia from the evil Gary Gritter.

In addition to using good old-fashioned brute force on a host of stone-age critters, you'll have to use a little Cro-Magnon grey matter to solve puzzles as you weave your way through five challenging levels including a scary cave, an Ice Age, a hazardous water world and even a dinosaur graveyard.

Sega Falcom/Mega Drive SHINING FORCE

While Shining in the Darkness is quite new here, Sega/Falcom has already started on its sequel called Shining Force. Shining Force contains the same great attention to detail as its predecessor, and then some! First, it has been bumped up to 12 megabit! Second the animations, especially in the battle scenes have been greatly enhanced. Finally, the quest will resemble that of the Phantasy Star series, rather than taking place in a maze of dungeons!

Hot-B/Mega Drive BAD OMEN (TENTATIVE TITLE)

Bad Omen presents players with a new type of mind-wrenching block-breaking challenge. This version of the game combines action where the player must use paddles that rotate and operate in both the horizontal and in the vertical direction. The concept is to move the ball up through the maze to the goal, destroying the enemy that get in it's way. As you move the ball, the screen scrolls both up-and-down and side-to-side following the action. Not limited to a one player game a friend can join in a great two player cooperative game!

Each of the castle rooms holds strange and different enemies which you can destroy with your ball. Eliminate the enemy first, then move the ball up to destroy the breakable wall so that you can progress to the next room. Get a friend to join in for great two player cooperative fun!

Enix/Super Famicom SOUL BLADER

This game may look very familiar to players of Enix's original Actraiser, and it should! Entitled Soul Blader in Japan, but it may be entitled Actraiser 2 here in the States. While similar in the way you create the lands, that's about the only similarity to Actraiser. Soul Blader's action scenes are in the top view perspective, but they still contain all the action and intensity of the side view screens from Actraiser.

Some the original features still exist, such as using magic to clear the lands for homes and farms, but your helper, the Angel, is missing. Now you have a character that has a blue sphere that does most of the work. The sphere will even seek out the enemies and destroy them on command! A subscreen menu reports on the players current health and the magic that is in use.

There are many locations to build a colony for your people to survive, but to ensure there success, you must defeat a huge, temperamental boss that thinks the land is his! The bosses are tough, but your magic should will help to guarantee success.

Check the status of your character in the subscreen menu. You can also choose the magic and objects here.

Start off by choosing a location to build on...

Then clear the land of objects so you may build.

Journey through the towns to find many surprises!!

The lakefront is a good place to set up shop!

Use the Sphere to search for enemies and destroy them!!

Your constant companion is this blue ball

Enter the shrine to speak and listen to your subjects!

Check everything and everywhere for clues that may help you!

Boss 1

SHOOT TO THRILL!

Vice officer Quinn Hart is on an assignment unlike anything he's ever seen! Weird bodies are turning up dead, top secret weaponry is missing, and organized crime is at an all time high. But Hart's up against something more than the Mob, street gangs, or even hostile terrorists. A new force has risen and Hart finds himself plunged into a conspiracy of terror!

Nintendo/Famicom YOSHI'S EGGS

Once again, Mario has returned to the Famicom for yet another puzzle-type game starring himself, Luigi, Yoshi, and the cast from Super Mario World. In this game, which is similar in play to Hatris, Mario must catch his friends as the slowly tumble from the top of the screen. Line them up in rows and they will disappear and give Mario points for the various combinations. Featuring two player simultaneous action, this newest version of Mario should hit the U.S. for the Nintendo early in 1992. A GameBoy version is coming out at the same time!

The two player mode is the most exciting setup!

Watch for the GameBoy version to come out soon!

Choose your setup with the option screens.

Some of the cinema displays have been ported over to the SF version.

Telenet/Super Famicom SUPER VALIS

The Valis series, so very popular on the PC Engine CD-ROM, is continuing to be ported over to the other game formats. Now that the Super Famicom is becoming a driving force in Japan the order of translation puts this format second, ahead of the Mega Drive. While the SF audio can't match that of the CD's, nor does it have as much cart memory for the spectacular comic book length intermissions, Telenet has gone in and added some cool zooming functions thanks to the special Mode 7 abilities.

The screen zooms in before each level begins!

The Valis Sword magic at full power!

Tomy / GameBoy MONOPOLY

Attention all Monopoly players! Tomy has created a portable Monopoly game exclusively for GameBoy owners. Start out by picking your piece, rolling your dice and buying all the land you can afford! All the features of the board game are here: dice rolls, going to jail, bankruptcy, and all the streets are here to buy! Monopoly on the go - now available for the GameBoy.

The Community Chest holds many surprises!

The railroads are big money makers!

The familiar Monopoly board has not been changed!

Konami / GameBoy GOEMON 2

Those who have played Legend of the Mystical Ninja will be pleased to know that Konami will be releasing a sequel version for the GameBoy. Take on the personality of Kid Ying on a crucial mission to save the missing ghost princess, Yuki. Rumor has that she was kidnapped by the sinister Dragonbeast. In addition, Dragonbeast plans to spread a plague throughout the land. Work your way through the ten different Warlock Zones. Pick up many different weapons and power ups along the way to make your journey easier! You can even use Ninja Magic, such as lightning.

Sneak up on the enemies with your weapon.

Take out the guard with your staff.

Culture Brain / Super Famicom FLYING WARRIOR 4

Culture Brain, like most of the Nintendo licensees, is taking their popular Famicom/NES series of games and bringing the next sequel out on the 16 bit Super Famicom/S-NES. Look for super realistic action and spectacular graphics in this sequel.

TAKE A CRUISE WHERE THE FOOD IS TERRIBLE, THE CREW SMELLS AND THE ENTERTAINMENT COULD KILL YOU.

Pirates! They won't bring breakfast to your cabin or let you play shuffleboard on the promenade deck. But they will provide you with hours of ship-board entertainment when you take the helm of an authentic 17th Century pirate ship bound for fame and fortune on the Spanish Main.

There's never been an NES™ simulation this ruthless or realistic. Historically accurate pirate raids, spanning six time periods and four difficulty levels, challenge you to navigate through hundreds of land and sea battles. Where your worth as a captain will be determined by the fire in your cannons, the skill of your sword and the size of your treasure chest.

Aye, matey. Pirates! is a Caribbean cruise that even the infamous tourist Bluebeard would find treacherous.

Negotiate for treasure maps and the haul of a beautiful maiden.

Duel for respect with outwitting commanders.

Navigate through enemy infested waters.

Enter a town peacefully or blow it to smithereens.

NEW SOFT NEWS

As we get closer to CES, the software companies are starting to talk about next year's games. The S-NES is really going to take off in '92 as almost all of the NES licensees are jumping on the S-NES bandwagon. Seta is readying Nosferatu and F1 Race; T & E has their second golf simulation - Pebble Beach; Interplay is doing Another World; Jaleco will bring out Goal; MC O River will do F-1 Grand Prix; Microprose takes to the air with F-15; Accolade has their first S-NES title - Test Drive 2; Atlas plans to do Widget and Metal Jock; Data East has Sanction Earth; Hi-Tech is working on Tom and Jerry and Hunt for Red October; Hot-B is thinking about a game called Bazoo and Gametek is doing Caribbean Challenge.

The NES isn't being completely abandoned though. Seta has Bioforce Ape; Sofel will do Dragon Fighter; Virgin will convert Prince of Persia; Irem plans to do Hammerin' Harry and Kung Fu 2; Asmik is looking at Boomer Land; Atlas is doing Widget and the Toxic Crusader is coming to Bandai.

STREET FIGHTER 2; XARDION; RAIDEN; GOAL; Y & C 2; EQUINOX; CARGOYLE'S QUEST; JON & MAC; MAGIC SWORD; BALLISTIX; MARBLE MADNESS; RINGS OF POWER; CALIFORNIA GAMES; FIGHTING MASTERS; CC DONALD DUCK; DAVID ROBINSON BASKETBALL; THE GAMES; WINTER CHALLENGE; BATTLE WINGS; O'BERT; HIGH STAKES.

STREET FIGHTER II

Capcom/Super NES

In the arcades, there is always a crowd around the Street Fighter II machine. As we reported last month, Capcom U.S. has officially announced that the Super Nintendo version is in the works and it will be coming out in July. Best of yet, unlike Final Fight, this martial arts game WILL have a two player version. Rumors of a special 6 button controller are still unconfirmed but the extra cost of $20 to $30 on top of a $60+ cartridge may be just too much for the average player to handle. More on the super hot soft next month!

XARDION Asmik/Super NES

EGM EXCLUSIVE!!

The Alpha 1 Solar System contains three planets. The inhabitants of these planets have been at war for seven months. Invaders from the distant star NGC 1611 are in position to take over the three planets. Representatives of Alpha 1 dispatched their most advanced cyborgs to NGC 1611. They must eliminate the enemies power source. Communication with the cyborgs has been terminated. It is rumored when all three cyborgs join, they will form the ultimate cyborg... This is the legend of Xardion.

Xardion is the newest entry into the world of the Super Nintendo by Asmik. Asmik designed Xardion to fit all types of players because it is an RPG, action, and adventure game all in one. You can choose from three different cyborgs throughout the game to help you. Each cyborg has their own strengths and weaknesses; such as speed, firepower, and overall strength. With a long quest, excellent graphics, and a nice soundtrack, Xardion is sure to be a hit when it arrives in the stores next March.

TRITON

PANTHERA

The subscreen allows you to choose which cyborg you want. You can also change the special weapons and equipment as well!

STAGE 1

In stage 1, you must make your way through the heavily guarded fortress!

STAGE 2

Stage 2 is completely under water, except for the battle with the boss!

STAGE 3

In stage 3, you find an underground cavern to explore. Watch for the traps!

RAIDEN TRAD

Electro Brain/Super NES

The Earth is under attack and only you can stop the invaders from taking over Earth. Raiden Trad is now coming out for the Super NES. Plenty of power ups are here and the action is very intense! It's 8 meg of hot 2 player action!

Stage 1 boss

Stage 2 boss

GOAL

Jaleco/Super NES

Jaleco's new soccer game called Goal has many features to make it stand out from the rest! Very smooth scrolling, unique views of the game, and realistic sound effects make Goal a winner from beginning to end!

The setup for a shot!

The goalie's view of the game!

NEXT WAVE

TOWN & COUNTRY 2: THRILLA'S SURFARI!

LJN/NES

T & C is once again open for business! In T & C 2, all of the great surfing and skateboarding action you remembered from the first game, is back in this fantastic sequel. Play the part of the thrillin' surf-finest gorilla as you hang 10 through the lands collecting coins in order to buy better equipment. Then head out to the beach for some serious surfin' fun! T & C 2 will be coming at you in '92!

The adventure has doubled since the first. All new landscapes to skate through and new dangers lurking in the water are just a few of the items that make T & C 2 so much fun!

BALLISTIC.

The image features a repeating pattern of stylized human faces. Each face is rendered in a flat, graphic style and is surrounded by a burst of radiating lines, creating a starburst or 'ballistic' effect. The faces are colored in two shades: a vibrant blue and a bright green. They are scattered across the page, some appearing larger than others. The background is a plain, light cream color.

El Viento

The year is 1928. In a distant galaxy, a monstrous entity awakes and waits. The mighty Hestur lives to destroy, with the power to obliterate a planet. On Earth, he is wrangled by a cult called the Hestur Group. They intend to bring Hestur to Earth to wipe out civilization and begin a new world... devoted by the cult of Hestur! To summon Hestur, they plan to use the Empire State Building as a sacrificial altar. The only one who can stop them is Annel, a young sorceress from the mountains of Peru, who has telepathically harnessed part of Hestur's power. She controls the elements of the air, possessing the magic of El Viento.... The Hestur Group has enlisted the gangsters of Vincente Bellencio, supreme underworld kingpin. Your battle begins in the speakeasies, casinos, docks and towers of New York, against a merciless and powerful foe. Prepare to witness the mind-boggling element of El Viento!

Master of Monsters

Gaya, king of the Dark World, summoned five of his loyal subjects — a fierce warlock, a sorcerer with healing powers, an evil wizard, Nechromensa the master of chaos and confusion, and Samona, who possesses power over all good and evil subjects. Gaya looked over his five masters of magic and spoke: "The time has come to choose a new king, but only one of you will reign. You will use your magical powers to create fighting monsters and ultimately you will live or die. Whoever remains will conquer and inherit my kingdom. Though you may win or lose, each of you must fight to the end to be worthy of ruling my kingdom."

After Gaya spoke, he pointed to a door behind the five masters of magic. "On the other side of the door, I have created a world of the Master of Monsters," roared King Gaya. "Go and fight to your victory!"

DAVID ROBINSON'S SUPREME COURT

Sega/Genesis

Sega has created a new basketball game starring David Robinson of the San Diego Spurs. Go head-to-head with a friend, or play against the computer for a tough challenge. The diagonal views of the court are very unique as the switch when you pass the center line. David Robinson's Supreme Court will be available in '92.

The option screen allows for many different variations to the game. You can change the number of players on a team and even change the length of each quarter!

David Robinson discusses the first half of the game with the announcer.

The Lions have a great defense, but a weak offense!

The Tomcats have good ball control, but lack in speed!

The Apaches have fast runners, but fouling always plagues them!

The Bears have great shooting, but they have no defense.

Continue as player two and pick Ryu to be your fighter.

get ready for a confusing battle! You will be the Ryu on the right (Player Two). The Ryu on the left is computer controlled. This happens because Ryu is the default 1P character if 2P joins in after 1P loses, even if Ryu was defeated once before. It is not possible to do this trick with anyone else.

It's Ryu vs Ryu! Get ready to fight the strangest battle yet!

Perhaps, if you can keep from getting confused, you will win.

SUPER GHOULS 'N' GHOSTS

ATTACK ME IF YOU DARE, I WILL CRUSH YOU.

Finally! The second part of our Street Fighter II segment is here! In these next four pages, we will reveal the awesome moves of Ken, Chun Li, E. Honda, and Blanka. Also featured in this issue are even more highly advanced tips and tricks, some you know, some you don't. First and foremost, you need to learn the strengths and weaknesses of each World Warrior, from special attacks right down to basic defense. Street Fighter II commands brilliance and excellence from all prospective World Warriors, unless you like having your face ground into the turf! So gear up, stretch, and prepare for the next training lesson! Stick to EGM for updates on this great series!

The fireball might be a great long-range weapon, but beware a brutal enemy counterattack if you're too close. You become defenseless for a couple of seconds, so your opponent may jump over the fireball and nail you with a well-timed jump kick.

The weakest special move is the hurricane kick. It has certain advantages, however. In fighting Guile, you can use this move to leap over his Sonic Boom and smash him into oblivion. The easiest defense against this attack is a low fire.

THE MYSTERY OF THE RED FIREBALL...

Many players have wondered what is so special about the strange red fireball of Ken and Ryu. Actually, nothing! It is just a quirk in the game and acts just like the normal blue fireball. Still, it looks very cool!

The dragon punch is the most devastating counterattack available to you. It is most effective after blocking an attack or when an enemy is jumping close, as shown. Here, E. Honda gets nailed by a fierce dragon punch.

THE MANY MOVES OF ZANGIEF...

As promised, here are the explanations of the special attacks for the Soviet wrestler, Zangief. Twelve of the thirteen moves are here. You must learn the devastating Screwdriver on your own.

Light Boy is Bound to Attract Attention!

I can't take my Light Boy any place without making a commotion. All I wanted was a few private moments on the Game Boy before the offense got off the field; but now I've got these rookies from the other team in here. They like the way Light Boy makes the Game Boy screen light up in the dark. The 1½ times magnification is great, too. Light Boy is bound to attract attention. Now, how do I get rid of these guys?

- Bilateral lighting
- Batteries included
- 1.5 magnification

DHALSIM vs SAGAT

Dhalsim has an easy time with Sagat (and most foes) by punching under his fireball. Sliding works wonders, too. In a pinch, use the Yoga Spear to catch Sagat off guard. Dhalsim is the easiest to master, thanks to his reach.

KEN or RYU vs SAGAT

Ken and Ryu defeated Sagat in the first Street Fighter, but this time, Sagat wields the awesome Tiger Uppercut. If you are lucky enough to block this move, you can drain Sagat's energy drastically with your Dragon Punch or an uppercut.

CHUN LI vs ZANGIEF

Chun Li's best chance against the muscular Zangief is the heel kick. This way, Chun Li can keep moving, lest the big Soviet catch her. Zangief can do a backwards jump kick or punch if he feels Chun Li will try this maneuver. Also,

KEN or RYU vs CHUN LI

Chun Li is a real sucker for the fearsome Dragon Punch.

A fierce uppercut will work just as well, but it won't net as many points. Also, the Dragon Punch has a much better chance of doing double or even triple damage to your foe.

KEN or RYU vs BALROG

Balrog looks like Mike's (the USA boxer in the original Street Fighter) bigger, older brother! His punches are vicious and fast. His weakness lies in the straight punch, fireball, and jump kick. Watch out for his wind-up back hand punch!

throwing them to the ground. This comes in handy against M. Bison, Vega, and any opponent who loves the jump kick. After getting nailed by this move, they'll think twice.

CHUN LI vs VEGA

At first, Vega seems invincible to poor Chun Li. His jumps and attacks seem to overpower her in all respects. Move to the left and wait for Vega to start bouncing off the wall. If you time it right, you can hit him with her roundhouse repeatedly.

CHUN LI vs DHALSIM

Chun Li's most disastrous attack is the Whirlwind Kick.

An experienced Chun Li fighter can quickly drain half of your energy with one Whirlwind Kick, and make you completely dizzy at the same time! The best defense is an uppercut.

E. HONDA vs GUILLE

E. Honda is a rejected character, even though he has many resources available to him. His holds are bone-crushing, his Sumo Slap is deadly, and the Sumo Torpedo is just as formidable as Blanka's Ball Attack. Even his reach is great.

RYU or KEN vs BLANKA

Blanka is a rough customer for anyone except Guile and Dhalsim. Ryu and Ken have an even worse time with him. The fireball and Dragon Punch do great damage to the walking furball. Use Blanka if you want an easy game.

KEN vs RYU

Ken and Ryu are the most completely matched characters in the game. Their attacks can completely cancel each other. Remember, Ryu attacks with patience and technique, while Ken goes into a berserker frenzy.

RYU or KEN vs VEGA

In the battle against Vega, the slow fireball is especially effective (use the jab button for a slow fireball). Try this: knock him down, get close, and hit him with an uppercut as he gets up. For some reason his guard won't be up.

CHUN LI vs KEN or RYU

Chun Li is one tough cookie! She can deliver some quick, powerful blows better than many men. Her Lightning Kick can be sped up by using the Short button to start, then switching to the Roundhouse button. E. Honda is the same.

KEN or RYU vs M. BISON

M. Bison really isn't that strong, he's just fast. His flaming torpedo attack is only deadly when you are dizzy; a straight punch will stop him. The Dragon Punch, a fireball, and the Hurricane Kick are extremely useful against him.

GUILLE vs BISON

M. Bison is toast when Guile gets a hold of him! Guile's

Somersault Kick nails M. Bison flat everytime! His Sonic Boom is great, too, as well as his power sweep. Use Guile's mid-air smash, and M. Bison will wish he never met you...

choose from on both offense and defense. Pick the correct one, and you'll gain yards or stop the offense in its tracks. Choose wrong, and you'll suffer a QB sack or worse!

The play of the game is enhanced by digitized sounds that really bring the action to life. Large on-screen players make the game easy to follow. Control is incredibly easy with only one button to contend with.

To win, you have to use football strategy. On third down, if you have a lot of yards to go, a pass is usually the best way to gain yards, but a running play just might catch the defense off guard. Try passing the ball on first down or when you only need a couple of yards to keep the defense on its toes. On defense, make sure that you have adequate pass coverage, but always be on guard against a draw play up the middle.

Choose your weapon from many different plays! Contend with both a running and a passing style of offense.

THE UNDISCOVERED COUNTRY

BEHIND

On the brink of galactic peace, the crew of the starship Enterprise fights not to win battles, but to end them forever...

By Ed Semrad and Steve Harris

Twenty-five years of Star Trek magic come to a conclusion with the final adventure of the starship Enterprise in Paramount's incredible new mega-hit, Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country, out in theatres now.

Offering a resolution to the original crew's faithful service to the United Federation of Planets, Star Trek VI reunites Captain James Tiberius Kirk and the rest of the Enterprise command with their sworn enemy, the Klingon Empire. This time, however, the two interstellar super powers must confront each other not for battle, but to embrace a proposition of peace.

PLOTTING THE FINAL FRONTIER

Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country brings the original cast together once again, including William Shatner as Captain James T. Kirk, Leonard Nimoy as the always-logical Vulcan Mr. Spock, and DeForest Kelley as Dr. McCoy. In addition, other regulars like Chekov, Uhura and Scotty are joined by familiar Star Trek faces such as Sarek, Mr. Spock's father.

With the cast assembled, director Nicholas Meyer (known by most Star Trek fans as the director of the second movie, The Wrath of Khan as well as the co-author of The Voyage Home) pursued big name talent to fill other important roles. Included among this long list of well-known actors are Christopher Plummer, David Warner, Iman and Michael Dom.

Kirk, Spock and the Enterprise crew confront the Klingons

With additional people hired for behind the screens work and principal visual effects assigned to Industrial Light and Magic, Meyer set out with Executive Producer Leonard Nimoy to develop the storyline and screenplay for what would become the thematic resolution to Star Trek's first 25 years.

THE KLINGON EMPIRE IS IN TROUBLE

Following on the heels of a natural disaster of planetary proportions, the Klingon Empire is in search of help. Reluctantly, the Federation extends an overture of peace that ultimately triggers a hostile reaction from conservatives on both sides whose very existence relies on the ongoing hostilities.

From this friction comes much of Star Trek VI's storyline. The basic premise extends from the direct confrontation between Federation representatives and Klingon emissaries, reaching a more personal level for each member of the Enterprise crew.

"Spock experienced prejudice growing up half-Vulcan and half-human," observes Nimoy. "In Star Trek VI, Spock becomes an emissary against prejudice and discovers, during the course of the story, his own prejudices."

Nichelle Nichols, who portrays communications officer Lt. Uhura, elaborated on this theme, "The Star Trek films have always touched on social issues and prejudices. This is the first time that we're collectively facing our own."

This underlying theme has been expressed directly in the movie's subtitle, "The Undiscovered Country", a title that for Nimoy implies "the future and people's fear of it. It's the devil we know versus the devil we don't know."

Actor William Shatner touches on the immediacy of this story by drawing parallels to our own time. "In the script," Shatner points out, "there's a wonderful line, 'In space, all warriors are cold warriors.' Both sides have come to define themselves by their antagonism. What will I be without my enemy?"

"The best Star Trek stories have their genesis in real life," continued Shatner. "For this story you just have to pick up the daily newspaper."

"When you look at current world events and compare them to the Star Trek VI plot, you realize just how true Shatner's statement is.

Captain Kirk and Dr. McCoy confront General Chang (Christopher Plummer) and the Klingon judicial system as they stand trial for murder!

THE SEARCH FOR PEACE

Following a tremendous cataclysm, the Klingons are left to face a terrible situation that forces them to seek outside assistance. At first they question the Federation's motives, but eventually moderates from within the Klingon High Council arrive at a decision to meet with their enemy.

Ordered to rendezvous with the Klingon peace party, led by David Warner as Chancellor Gorkon and Christopher Plummer as General Chang, Capt. Kirk and company are sent to provide an escort for the Klingons to the first round of "peace talks". During the journey, one of the film's most remarkable scenes features the crew of the Enterprise joining the Klingons at a state dinner, where the two cultures meet to ultimately toast the prospects of peace and "The Undiscovered Country".

LEONARD NIMOY...MR. SPOCK'S VISIONS OF STAR TREK

While each member of the Star Trek cast has left an indelible mark on the show, none has had the impact nor retained the admiration of Trekkers like the always logical Mr. Spock. To most, Mr. Spock is no longer just a member of the Star Trek crew. This is because the man behind Mr. Spock, the creative actor/director/writer Leonard Nimoy, has become an important force in developing the entire Star Trek universe.

In addition to reprising his role of Mr. Spock for all six Star Trek films, Nimoy has helmed two Trek adventures (Star Trek III: The Search For Spock and Star Trek IV: The Voyage Home) as director as well.

Cast in the dual role of actor and executive producer for Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country, Nimoy was originally approached by Paramount in the Spring of 1990 to develop a new film that would resolve the show's first 25 years.

"I began thinking," recalls Nimoy, "about the condition of the world that summer. The Berlin wall had fallen and the Russian government was in severe distress. The changes were creating a new order in our world."

"Realizing that over the 25-year history of 'Star Trek' the Klingons have been the constant foe of the Federation, much like the Russians and Communists were to democracy, I wondered how we could translate these contemporary world affairs into an adventure with the Klingons."

By applying situations that we are collectively experiencing today and placing them in the context of the Star Trek future, Nimoy has succeeded in not only molding the storyline of the most spectacular of all Star Trek films, he has shown yet again that he has a keen understanding of what motivates people now as well as in the 23rd century.

Other forces, however, conspire to end the talks between the Federation and Klingons. The Klingon warship traveling with the Enterprise is attacked by unknown forces and a battle erupts that could eliminate the potential peace forever. In a critical decision, Kirk surrenders himself to the vicious Klingon General Chang and is ultimately put on trial with Dr. McCoy.

It is during the Klingon trial scenes that another bridge between the vintage cast and the Next Generation is made with the introduction of Klingon Defense Attorney Work, played by Michael Dorn. This character, who represents Captain Kirk and Dr. McCoy, is the grandfather of Lt. Worf, also played by Dorn, from the current Next Generation series.

Banished to the inhospitable ice world of Rura Penthe, Kirk and Bones encounter a variety of aliens who have also been forced into permanent imprisonment by the Klingons.

All the while, Federation officers, including Spock's father Sarek and Sulu, who now commands the USS Excelsior, work to uncover the treachery behind the attack against the Klingons while proving that their intentions are good.

SEE THE MOVIE - PLAY THE GAME

With its incredible effects and strong storyline, Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country is sure to be the last major movie hit of 1991. Besides connecting many of the most important plot lines between the original Star Trek and Star Trek

Captain Kirk takes command as the Enterprise comes under attack!

The starship Enterprise leaves orbit to meet the Klingons!

The Next Generation, Star Trek VI delivers a more important message behind the amazing action and superb plot twists. Star Trek VI represents an end to the voyages of the current Enterprise ensemble, but opens up the door for a whole new series of films with the next generation of Star Trek movies. Whether a new Star Trek appears remains to be seen, but Star Trek VI will definitely hold us over until then.

Coinciding with the release of Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country, and tying in with the show's 25th anniversary, several leading game companies have developed softs that tap into the action and adventure of the original series.

Chief among these new titles is Star Trek - The 25th Anniversary from Konami for the NES and GameBoy. Both products give you complete control over the Enterprise, whether it's to face down Klingon aggression or to visit alien worlds. The NES cart gives you amazing freedom with which to patrol the different planets you encounter on your mission, even allowing you to beam down Kirk, Spock and McCoy! Throw in large animated character intermissions and dozens of sensor displays and you'll appreciate the scope that this game possesses on both the big screen and, to a somewhat lesser extent, on the small GameBoy screen as well.

For computer enthusiasts, Interplay is also offering a Star Trek adventure of their own for the PC. While it retains many of the same game elements as the less complex NES and GameBoy versions, many of the best features have been further enhanced to create an incredible gaming experience.

BOLDLY GO WHERE NO NES CART HAS GONE BEFORE...

Amidst the many movie translations available for the various game systems, Ultra Games has taken the classic TV series Star Trek, which is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year, and made it into a new action filled adventure for the NES.

The game is divided into two main parts. The first part pertains to the ship and its functions. It contains the full screen cinema displays that feature the deck and crew members of the starship Enterprise. This section of the game lets you check on the status of the Enterprise's fuel supply, form a landing party for the planet surface, and look at a galactic map of your present location in the universe. On this screen you also can communicate with other ships over the hailing device and can transport down to the planet, to the action scenes.

In this second part of the game, there are many people to talk to and get help. For example, on the first planet if you bring one of the shooting flowers to the medicine man he will make a repellent for the blood worms that are in the forest. Without

ENTER THE VILLAGE TO GET HELPFUL INFORMATION.

Use the Tricorder to analyze different objects on the planet surface to see if they are of any value.

BEAM DOWN TO THE PLANET SURFACE!

To start the action scenes in the game you must beam down to the planet surface. If the captain gets injured and is severely wounded you will automatically be transported back to the Enterprise and will have to beam back down to contin-this repellent it is impossible to go any further in the game.

The game play has a variety of different situations and puzzles to solve. One in particular is similar to a scene in Raiders of the Lost Ark. In this, Kirk must cross over a floor of tiles with different symbols on them. You must remember the order of the tiles from a section earlier in the temple or you will be injured fatally and beamed back to the Enterprise.

This cart will please fans of the older TV series and the RPG-like storyline is just as good as one of the episodes. The game uses a full 4-Meg of memory and the quest gets quite complex. For loads of inter-planetary adventure and great cinema intermissions, Star Trek is the only logical choice for the Nintendo Entertainment System.

A NEW LEGEND IS BORN

An evil Wizard known as Agnon has kidnapped the Princess Zelda and taken over the land of Hyrule. He has declared the valient warrior Link an outlaw and has sent his armies throughout the lan of Hyrule to bring him back dead or alive.

This is the story of the latest cart in the Zelda series for the Super NES. This 3rd Zelda adventure features the graphic and audio enhancement of the Super NES and the largest quest to date. The game play follows after the original Zelda with overhead views of the overworld and dungeons with loads of items and weapons to find and use.

The quest is all new and more intricate than ever before. Not only does Link have to deal with the incredibly large land of Hyrule he must travel to the Dark Zone by using trans-dimensional warp zones. These other lands are a sort of parallel universe and are just as adventuresome as the real Hyrule. The dungeons are multi-leveled and can have up to 10 different floors!

Get ready to take a look at what might be the greatest 16-Bit adventure ever!

ZELDA 3

A LINK TO THE PAST

The cinema displays at the beginning of the game explain the story and plot of your adventure.

Use the map to scroll around the land and locate important areas to explore.

There is also a map that lets you view the entire land at once.

THE DARK ZONE

Once you've obtained the 3rd pendant go to the Northwest forest and get the Master Sword. From there go to the castle where your quest began and you will be able to open the door on the roof by hitting it with the Master Sword.

You'll have to make your way to the top of the castle in order to face Agnon. After you've given him a beating he will send you to the Dark Zone where you'll learn of yet another quest that must be solved before the final battle. The Dark Zone opens the door to a whole new world that is very similar to Hyrule. By traveling through the Dark Zone and using the Magic Mirror you can go to places you couldn't get to before. You must rescue 7 different maidens from 7 different labyrinths in the Dark Zone before you can enter the final castle. The adventure is only beginning, however, and you must master the Magic Mirror in order to unlock the secrets and mysteries of Hyrule and the Dark Zone. Get ready for the greatest Zelda quest and quite possibly the greatest video game adventure ever!

DEFEAT THE EVIL WIZARD!

Agnon will await you at the top of the first castle. You must disable the barrier with the Master Sword before entering the castle. Reflect his shot by hitting them with your sword. Don't try to attack with your sword or the wizard will use magic to drain your health. When defeated, Agnon will send you to the Dark Zone where the second quest will begin. Good Luck!

WARP TO THE DARK ZONE!

Find a Blue Warp Zone somewhere in Hyrule and step in to warp to the Dark Zone. Use the Magic Mirror to come back to reality.

THE LAND OF HYRULE IS FILLED WITH MORE MYSTERIES THAN EVER BEFORE!

Keep an eye out for even the smallest details in the land of Hyrule! There are secrets to be found in almost every screen!

THE RED FALCON RETURNS!!

One of the most eagerly anticipated shooting sequels is now being readied for the Super NES. This game is none other than - Konami's Contra 4. If you've been thinking about getting the new system but haven't seen anything you really liked, this game will change your mind! The geniuses at Konami have been able to do things in this game that have never been seen before in a home video game! First, Contra 4 is loaded to the hilt with Mode 7 effects! Everything, from the cinema displays to the huge end bosses are all phenomenal! And that's nothing compared to the overview and the 3D perspectives which set new standards in game programming! For example, as you walk through the levels you can scroll the screen in a circle to give you a different view of what is all around you. This allows you to look a complete 360 degrees instead of just only being able to see what is straight in front of you.

The bosses not only fill up the whole screen but their movements causes the screen to shake and rattle! They will also scroll in and out and fly up at you, giving the effect that they are coming out of the screen!

What you have here is just a sneak preview of the game. Stay tuned as Contra will be back in EGM!

CONTRA 4*

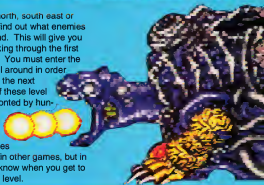

THE GUARDIAN LEVELS!

Each level in the game will follow a certain pattern, and it is divided into two parts. The first part of the level will be side scrolling. The second part of each level will be either a overview or 3-D perspective. In both of these levels you can scroll the screen around so you can face and walk in certain directions. The 3-D levels will play much like Dungeon Master because when you enter a room you must turn and face either north, south east or west in order to find out what enemies are lurking around. This will give you the effect of walking through the first level of a house. You must enter the room and look all around in order to find the exit to the next room. In each of these level you will be confronted by hundreds of enemies, and many mini-bosses.

These mini-bosses look like bosses in other games, but in this game you'll know when you get to the boss of each level.

THE GAMES OF ADVENTURE ISLAND

Adventure Island

Adventure Island 2

Super Adventure Island

Have you tried the two previous NES versions of Adventure Island?

MASTER HIGGINS RETURNS...

Master Higgins and his latest love are enjoying a quiet time when all of a sudden the evil Witch Doctor appears, grabs her, and takes her away. You now must search throughout the entire kingdom to rescue her!

Set up in a new 16-bit format, this adventure proves to be the bet one yet with all new graphics, cool sounds, an upbeat soundtrack and great game play. You start off with nothing but your skills of running and jumping. Along the way, look out for weapons such as the stone hammer or the boomerang. Use these to take out the worms in shells, lizards on balloons, floating walruses, headhunters, walking candles and many others. Collect multiple weapons to increase their power and to upgrade to the killer fireball. Watch the yellow time bar at the top of the screen as when that runs out you will die. Collect the pieces of fruit that you find as they will increase the time limit. The other cool items like the skateboard and the hidden bonus rooms are back in this adventure and looking for them adds to this great adventure. With great 16 bit graphics this is easily the best AI yet!

Headhunters with spears will try to make a pin cushion out of you. Be sure to duck before they throw their spears.

Hop from island to island but watch out for jumping walruses. Before leaping, take out the enemy with your weapon.

LEVEL 1

Jump over a variety of waterfalls while avoiding bugs and other nasties in the forest. Run up and down hills to get away from rolling rocks, flaming candles and sneaky snails. Make your way from platform to platform in order to avoid falling in the lava.

LEVEL 2

This island has a lot of surprises. Some include kamikaze penguins, flying fish, and vicious tribesmen. You will have to swim in the second part of the level through a whale's belly. While in the water you should watch out for the electric eels that shoot lightning bolts.

BOSS 1

Hit the first boss in the head with your weapon. Watch out for the fireballs that he will drop from his mouth.

BOSS 2

The second boss is even more of a challenge as you must swim and shoot at the same time.

WEAPONS AND ITEMS

The basic weapons that Master Higgins uses are the hammer and the boomerang. Collect several of the same weapon and it will power up to a fireball. Along the way grab the various types of fruit for extra life energy.

The outstanding Mode 7 scaling on the Super NES is used often in this super shooter!

SARGE, WE'RE GOIN' IN - FAST!

D-Force sets new standards in vertical scrolling shooters as this is the first Super NES action game to make extensive use of the Mode 7 scaling and rotation feature. In this game you take the helm of a super assault Apache chopper and must take on the enemy in a nonstop battle. Power up your guns 6 times in order to get through the tight situations when the enemy is both, in the air and on the ground. Then get ready to take on the enemy who is coming at you on two different levels. Blow the planes away on the upper level then dive down to take on the low flying aircraft!

D-FORCE

TWO MODES OF GAME PLAY!

Part of the game is the typical shooter, however, in the exploration levels, you will have to change altitude frequently as the enemy are on two different planes.

"WHAT'S OVER THIS EDGE...OH NOOOOOO!"

Enter the realm of the true follower - the Norwegian lemming! These guys are in serious trouble! Even though they do have some common sense, they don't think for themselves and all they do is follow their leader. Your job, therefore, is to teach the leader lemming how to make a safe path from start to finish. If most of your buddies survive the trip then you can move on to the next challenge.

You can teach the leader lemming to do a lot of different things. Some examples are building ramps, digging your way through solid rock, or even opening up a parasol to be used as a parachute when falling. But use these powers carefully, as you only have a limited number of abilities to grant. With 125 different levels, a password to get you back to where you left off, and even multiple endings, this cart will really keep you thinking!

TEACH THE LEMMINGS NEW TRICKS!!!

CLIMBER

Climbing is one of the best ways to get over mountains and hills.

FLOATER

Using the umbrella allows the lemmings to fall long distances without dying.

BOMBER

A lemming will blow himself up, but he'll make a hole in a wall or the floor.

BLOCKER

This lemming will stand still and get all his friends to reverse their direction.

BUILDER

These lemmings will build bridges to get them over pits and on to cliffs.

BASHER

The basher digs horizontal tunnels through walls and mountain sides.

MINERS

The miners can dig holes in the walls at a 45° angle downward.

DIGGER

Allows the lemmings to dig holes in the floor to get to the level below.

THE TURTLES ARE BACK AND READY FOR ACTION!!

The turtles have returned for their third Nintendo adventure, complete with Shredder back again and up to his old tricks.

While the Turtles were enjoying their Florida vacation a special news bulletin filled the air! April was reporting on the incredible rise in crime spreading across the Big Apple. While still on the air, April was kidnapped by the sinister Shredder. Daring the Turtles to come to the rescue, Shredder left the airwaves with April in tow!

Turning their noses on Shredder's idle threats, the fearsome foursome has hit the streets of New York to take on the thugs and rescue April!

Eliminating the various obstacles Shredder has placed in the path of the Turtles becomes your most immediate concern. These battles are fought across a variety backdrops ranging from the beaches to a bridge, with additional confrontations unfolding in Central Park, the subway, as well as in the sewers! The conflict climaxes with a Turtle-bashing tour-de-force across Manhattan Island, which Shredder has elevated above the skies of New York City!

Don't worry, however, because you have some powerful new skills at your disposal. The turtles have been hard at work improving their ninja knowledge since the last run-in with the Shredder, and these enhanced abilities come in handy!

LEONARDO

Leonardo uses two powerful swords as his weapons. These also play an important part in his special attack which features a jumping Leo extending his arms and spinning!

CHOOSE YOUR TURTLE!!!! RAPHAEL MICHAELANGELO DONATELLO

Raphael is powerful, but his sais don't give you a long reach. His special technique is a flying spin kick that destroys everything in the way!

This turtle uses the power of the fully charged Nunchucku weapon. Mikey's also mastered a special mule kick that does tremendous damage to all who oppose him!

Don has the longest reach with his staff, and this is useful because you don't have to get very close to the enemy. A power slash can also be used as Don's special move!

Besides mastering their own trademark ninjitsu weapons, the Turtles now each possess their own special moves! Each new technique differs from turtle to turtle, but all of them are very powerful and can be applied in specific circumstances. The one catch to using these special moves, however, is that your limited supply of energy is depleted during every use. There is one move that can be used throughout that lets your on-screen alter-ego perform an over-head flip! This technique is very effective for taking out the Shredder's henchmen, but is totally ineffective against the Bosses. Master the use of the Ninja weapons and special movements will yield the best results against the end-of-level nasties.

The Turtle clan from the third instalment of the TMNT trilogy features the familiar characters from the first game, but even more enemies highlighted in the second movie, comic book and cartoon will strike at our heroes! Most of these characters are either new types of foot soldiers or evil mutants, not all of which follow the Shredder. Among the baddies you'll encounter are Shredder's new mutant warriors, Rahzar and Tokka, and of course, Bebop and Rocksteady.

THE ATTACK OF YOUR TURTLES!!

CATCH SOME MAJOR SURF!

In this level get ready to hit the surf and catch some killer waves. The foot clan has obtained a submarine, and plan to use it against the city. You must ride your surf board out to the submarine in order to stop them. Along the way you will be attacked by tons of Foot Clan robots, that have been given orders by Shredder to capture you dead or alive. You will also run into more Foot Clan that are riding little rocket jets, and they will try to shoot you off your board. The best way to deal with these guys is to hit them with your jump kick. Once you find the submarine you have to hop on it in order to take it back from the Foot Clan. However, you must beat Groundchuck, the leader of the sub, at the end of the level. He'll charge at you and eventually he'll run himself into a wall. When this happens hit him with your weapon.

THE BRIDGE OF DEATH!

Make turtle tracks over to the bridge because now the Foot Clan are trying to destroy it, and stop the people in New York from leaving. On the bridge you will be confronted by many new kinds of Foot Soldiers. These dudes have a variety of new weapons including a spear, whip, sickle, boomerang, and guns. You will also find Bebop driving a truck that he stole. He will be throwing grenades at you from out the window. In addition, he will also drop off one of his pets -Slash, a super mutant turtle. Slash will roll around at his back trying to hit you, and you must find a way to rub him out. After you do beat him you will get a chance to even the score with Bebop. Bebop will be using a mace to attack you, and when he tries to hit you with this your best attack is to jump over it and hit him a couple of times.

DON'T GET MUGGED!

Go to Central Park to pick up the Foot Clan trash lurking about. In the park you will run into some Traags - warriors from dimension X. Not only are these mutant Foot Clan in Central Park, but they also found their way into the subway!

Go down into the subway and clean up the trash in order to make it safe for the people of New York. It is here that you will meet up with Dirtbag. He will first come in on a railroad car and then drive away. Be patient, because he'll come back ready to do battle with you. His attack will be shooting radar beams out of his helmet. Dodge this and when he gets his axe stuck in the ground, go after him as this is when he's easiest to attack. Only hit him about three or four times because he will eventually get his axe unstuck. He will turn around again and start shooting his laser beams again. If you repeat the process you'll be able to defeat him.

BOY DOES THIS LEVEL STINK!

After you defeated Dirtbag the passage to the Technodrom is revealed. This passage sends you down and through the sewers. In the sewers you will find that there still are a group of mousers around. These guys are as troublesome as before, so make sure that they don't get a chance to get too close to you. Besides running into the Mouser soldiers, you will have to fight with the mother Mouser. To make it worse, a Foot Clan soldier is riding the Mouser and he is shooting fire balls at you. He is not the boss however. After you beat

THE TECHNODROM!

You have finally found your way to the Technodrom. Be careful because Shredder has set a bunch of new traps to try and stop you from destroying his hideout. In here you will be confronted by tons of Foot soldiers because this is where they are created. In addition, you will have to fight your way through part of this level while on a conveyor belt that has light beams shooting across it. To get past you will have to both, dodge the light beams and fight with the Foot soldiers which will constantly attack! After doing this, watch out,

A FIGHT IN AN ELEVATOR!!

After it looks like you have defeated the Shredder, Krang will come by and pick him up. He will fly Shredder back to Manhattan which is now floating above New York City. In order to get to this fortress you will have to battle your way up to the top of the building that is directly below Manhattan island. You get to the top of the building by an elevator, but as you are riding up the elevator you will be attacked by Foot soldiers. Be careful here because you can fall off the sides of the elevator very easily. Along the way you will meet up with him and fight through an additional length of sewer, you will come face to face with Leatherhead who is a mutated Crocodile, from Australia. Leatherhead's main weapon is his long tail. Should he get within striking distance he will flip his tail and knock you back. Keep your distance and watch his moves.

because as soon as you get off this conveyor belt you will have to fight Rahzar, one of Shredder's mutants. Should you beat him, the level isn't over as you will come face-to-face with Shredder himself! He is strong and even if it appears that you have beaten him, he isn't dead as he will reappear in a later level!

Shredder's most deadly mutant - Tokka. Once you beat him you will be picked up by the turtle blimp, and be flown over to the fortress. It is here where you will meet up with Krang. After you destroy him you will find yourself battling the rejuvenated Super Shredder. Beat him and April will be rescued!

Use the messages that you get from your allies wisely. They can help you through your quest. Listen to what they say, especially the messages from Ben.

The ultimate goal is to get to Darth Vader's chamber. However before you get there your journey will take you to many strange yet dangerous places. You'll be faced with numerous obstacles, and there will be a lot of deadly, yet familiar, enemies to overcome on your quest.

MAY THE FORCE BE WITH YOU

After playing Star Wars on the NES, you thought you'd seen it all. But, Lucasfilm is not finished yet, because the second game in the trilogy - The Empire Strikes Back, is here. The game play is from a side view perspective, with many multi-level mazes which you will have to find your way through. You play as Luke Skywalker, the Jedi Knight in training. On the first level, ride your Ton-Ton and destroy Darth Vader's probes, and learn of your mission to Degobah from the spirit of Ben. If you survive the first level, you must help your allies fight the attacking AT-ATs in your fighter. After that, you must go to the Degobah System, and talk to the Jedi Master, Yoda. After talking to Yoda, you must go to Cloud City to help your friends, and finally, face Vader with your Light Saber.

The game executes a lot of it's story through animated cinema displays. In scenes that Luke has to do a lot of work, you take on his role, and run about, dodging the creatures that would love to have you for a snack. With only your laser blaster to protect you, find your fate at each of your stops along your journey, and get ready to relive an experience that you would never forget since you saw the movie. The storyline follows the movie very closely, so fans of the movie should be able to relate to the game well. The Empire Strikes Back will bring back some inspiration of the Star Wars Trilogy that hasn't been seen for quite a few years!

LEVEL 1 - THE PLANET HOTH

Help Luke destroy the probes sent by Darth Vader. Find the power of the force, and get the message from Ben to go to the Degobah System. This level can be very dangerous. There is water at sub zero temperatures, that if you touch it, you lose power. The obstacles to be overcome are very dangerous.

LEVEL 2 - THE REBEL BASE

Now Luke must save his friends from the base that is being attacked by Darth Vader's forces. Afterwards, travel to the Degobah System. This level is extremely dangerous. If your ship is destroyed, you must continue on foot. You can't do much damage on foot, or can you...

LEVEL 3 - THE DEGOBAH SYSTEM

Luke must find the Jedi Master Yoda in this level. Trudge through the swamp and avoid the creatures that dwell there. Once you find Yoda, he will train you in the ways of the Jedi, and then take your fighter from the swamp so you can go to Cloud City.

LEVEL 4 - CLOUD CITY

Here, Luke has to go to the center of everyone's problems, Cloud City. Here, your friends are battling Vader's Stormtroopers. While at the same time, you must battle Darth Vader. If you make it this far, you're really in for it! You had better hope you've equipped yourself with every force possible before the final battle with Darth Vader.

TINY TERRORS OF THE NIGHT!

Now the famous toy line of the same name has just made its debut on the NES! You are cast as either the Vampire or the Frankenstein Monster (or both if there are two players). As you are watching TV, a sinister apparition appears - Warlock! While our duo has been watching TV, Warlock has been patiently sending out his troops to destroy them!

This is something our half-sized heroes won't stand for. Your job is to guide them to the lair of Warlock in order to destroy him once and for all. To do this, you will have your special flaming punches to fend off any attackers. Not only that, but since you are so small, gravity won't have much of an effect on you! In this, you can actually execute a double jump for incredible heights. Fight your way through kitchens, sewers, oriental village grounds, and all the way to the palace to take on the evil warlock. For their size, they sure do have big hearts!

CHOOSE YOUR MOVE!

Don't you just hate it when you lose your keys? Well maybe it's because these guys are tossing them at the enemy! Find screws and other objects that you can hurl for some major attacks! Be careful, these guys are clumsy!

THE MONSTER

The Frankenstein monster is here to save the day! This creep's method of attack is a fiery jab. Like the vampire, the monster can also do a double jump!

THE VAMPIRE

The vamp is a wily character that has a deadly wave of fire when he swings his forearms in a powerful downward thrust. He also has the ability to execute a double jump!

MONSTERS IN MY HOUSE!

In this stage, you will encounter goblins with spiked clubs and also winged goblins flying about. This stage also happens to be a giant shelf, so find different way out and try to locate a ramp where you can build up momentum to trample the warlock's goons!

MONSTERS IN MY KITCHEN!

Travel through a table and chair set to do battle on top of a giant kitchen counter filled with dishes and even burning stove grates! The various enemies you will encounter are anywhere from hatchet demons all the way to a cold hearted creep in the fridge for a boss!

WOLVERINE™

IN AN X-MEN MEGA-BATTLE
VS. SABRETOOTH
AND MAGNETO!

Unleash your deadly Adamantium claws when the going gets rough!

Psylocke's device enables you to call Havok when your energy is low.

Your aquatic skills keep the enemy at bay...until your air runs out.

Penetrate the impenetrable Fortress in your search for Sabretooth!

Don't be drawn in by Magneto's magnetic metal leads!

Stranded on a deserted island by his arch enemies, Wolverine must now fight the battle of his life! Mutant powers, including regenerative healing abilities, an Adamantium skeleton and retractable razor sharp claws make Wolverine a terrifying adversary...but has he finally met his match against Sabretooth and the evil genius, Magneto? In the heat of battle, fellow X-Men[®] Havok[®], Jubilee[®] and Psylocke[®] help even out the score.

Prepare for the most exciting and unpredictable X-Men[®] adventure of them all!

SPECIAL CONTEST TIPS! PART 2

It's the biggest contest ever to hit the NES! To help you beat the game we will be giving tips, level by level, over the next few months!

Level 2 is pretty easy. First, go to the elevator and take it down. Then, go all the way to the right to get the key. Go all the way to the left to the locked door. This key will open the door that hides the sunglasses. Once you get these go back to where you started, and you will see blue platforms. Don't enter the transporter because it will keep you from getting items that you will need. You need to find the radio beacon in order to get off the level. In between you and the exit are spikes on the ceiling and floor. Put the helmet on and jump from vine to vine. Jump at the lowest part of the vine because if you don't, you'll hit the ceiling and fall into the spikes. Search around in the first part and you will come across a free man!

LEVEL 2- THE MOON

Use the elevator to go up and down between levels. Go to the left of the elevator first!

Get the key to the left of the elevator and then go further to the left and use the key to get the sunglasses. Use the sunglasses to see the platforms.

Once you find the radio beacon, you have to cross the spikes. Don't forget to put the helmet on and jump from the bottom!

LEVEL 3- INDUSTRIAL LAND

You will find that the best line of attack in this level is to use the boot. You will want to use the ray gun to defeat the Solar Road Hog, so don't waste you ammo. This level is very short but some parts are difficult.

The first hard part is the machine. There are three machine parts that you must find. They are all in a dangerous area where you can fall down a level. Carefully get the pieces, then fall. You will land right next to the machine. Put these parts into the machine, and a magnet will then come up. This magnet will pull down a flying saucer which will then let you to pass.

The toughest part of this level though, is getting past the hydraulic press. To do this jump right up onto the press so only Scooter's toe is on the platform. Then when the press goes up, run under it a little way. The press will come down but all you have to do is duck in order to avoid being squashed. Keep repeating until you're all the way through. Don't forget to get a key as you'll need one to get through this level.

Get the three machine parts, then put them into the machine. This will bring the magnets out to lower the flying saucer.

To get past the Hydraulic press, jump on the edge of the platform, and then run under when you get a chance. Duck when the press comes!

READY! AIM!

FIRE!

Rampart is the latest arcade conversion for the NES from Jaleco. This game can be considered one of the most unique titles available on the market. The whole object of the game is build a castle, cannons and all, fight a tremendous battle with invading pirates, and then rebuild your castle again.

There is a lot of strategy in this cart. For instance, when you are rebuilding your castle you are given a number of different walls resembling pieces from the game Tetris. You must seal up all sides of the castle in order for it to be used in battle. You only have a few seconds to complete your castle. You must also place your cannons in strategic locations. It is best to have your cannons as close to the enemy as possible so that the cannon balls don't have such a long distance to travel.

Rampart also features a two-player mode in which you and a friend can build separate castles and blow each other to smithereens, and of course, start all over again.

VICTORY OR DEFEAT?

BUILD AND REPAIR!

You must build your castle in the quickest way possible. If you do not have at least one castle before the time runs out you will be defeated. Try building walls with multiple layers for added protection.

PLACE CANNONS!

You only have a few seconds to place your cannons in strategic locations. You will be given a certain number of cannons depending on how much castle s you have.

PREPARE FOR BATTLE!

Now the fun starts. Try to blow up as many enemy ships as you can. If they send troops onto the land be sure to blow them away as well. After the battle is over it's time for repairs.

It is best to surround the enemy with you cannons. Try to get at least 2 or 3 cannons on each side. Don't build you castle too close to the walls, it makes rebuilding very difficult and you may be defeated quite easily.

The game isolates the action as the big fish are reeled in!

Guide your boat near a school of fish for quick hits!

Additional cinema displays are used for the catch!

HOOK, LINE, AND SINKER...

Pick your lures, throw your line and bring in the big catch! All the excitement and strategy of real fishing is now available in this update to last year's cult classic, "The Black Bass". This new cart expands upon the original concept by allowing you to pick a wider variety of options as well as a greater number of different fishing spots that together will enable skilled video fishers to haul in some real monsters!

Play begins with you in control of line weight and lures. After you have selected the items to fit your particular excursion, you climb aboard your ship and hit the waters with your lure drifting along behind. Once you locate the fish, you must skillfully guide your lure into the center of the school. Baiting the fish into biting can take some time, especially if you're intent on bringing in the big ones, but the real action doesn't even start until you get your first bite. When any one of the many kinds of fish do attack, the screen shifts to a separate display that focuses in on your rod and reel as well as the fish! Pull, lock-up, and torque the line as you try to wheel in your prize! Be careful, however, because hazards lurk around every corner! Time your return or your line might snap under the strain. The fish might even try to slice your line on the prop of your own motor or your game might even fall prey to the sharks! Choose your line strength and lures carefully so that you can get the best before the day is up. When the sun sets, cash in your haul for a bonus as well as a special password that lets you begin on the higher levels!

FIND HIDDEN ITEMS FOR LATER USE

There are many items scattered throughout the game. Most have a function, so pick up everything that you find as you'll need them later!

SHADOWS IN THE NIGHT...

Dark times have engulfed Metro City! The local hero - Vortex - has just been found dead after trying to take on an evil clan of gangsters that are led by the notorious Sutekh. Now, a new crime fighter, who goes under the name of Nightshade, has appeared on the scene! He, single-handedly, is putting the bad guys behind bars and Sutekh wants Nightshade eliminated.

Your job is to get to Sutekh first! To do this you must carefully explore the 100+ screens in the game. Clues are hidden everywhere, and, like a good detective, you must search each screen for items which will help you. Pick up everything possible and talk to the people as they can give you hints as to where to go and what to do!

TRAPS ARE EVERYWHERE!

Think fast! There is a way out of every trap, but what is it?

PROTECT THE CITY!

Gain popularity points by putting the criminals in jail!

Nightshade is not the typical action game. Rather, it is an adventure game which requires you to solve many small puzzles in order to achieve your final goal. These puzzles can get quite complex involving items which you picked up earlier in the game; clues from people you talked to; items that have to be operated (turn on light switch); and items that have to be used in combination with other objects. Also, some actions may seem to be completely unrelated to the quest but it's these 'little puzzles' which, when solved, open up doors to the real quest. It's a thinking game that will keep you glued to the screen for a long time!

What are you looking at? I suppose you've never seen a fire breathing ape before, aye? Well, to tell you the truth, neither had I, until that dirty rat Vookimedio turned me into one. All right! All right! I'll tell you who Vookimedio is and why he did this to me.

Vookimedio is an evil sorcerer who's had his eye on my girl for some time now and I can't say I blame him for that. But he's nothin' but bad news and, needless to say, my worst enemy! So, he and his big buddy, Bashtra the invisible giant, ganged-up on me and kidnapped my girl Miho. Vookimedio zapped me and turned me into a little, helpless monkey. Fortunately, the Spirit of the Jungle doesn't like those two scoundrels either, and gave me the ability to blow fireballs. Otherwise, I'd just be a little snack for his crazy creatures.

Well, I'd better get movin'. I've got plenty of running, climbing, swimming, shooting, and jumping to do. Hopefully I can find my sneakers and get some serious air! If not, there will be plenty of goodies along the way I can use. Enough chu-chat already! If you're comin' along, you'd better be ready for a wild jaunt in the jungle. Hurry-up! I've gotta get out of this monkey suit!

SAVE THE CITY!!!

Help, the city of Dynatron is in danger of being taken over by the level Dr. Mayhem. It all started when a research scientist created a new type of atomic syrup for his soft drink - Proto Cola. When he tested the syrup on a monkey, the monkey transformed into a man! He drank the syrup next, but what he didn't realize is that the radiation in the syrup brings out the strongest traits in someone or something. His greed came out as the strong trait and he was mutated into a power-hungry scientist. You must now find and eliminate him before he spreads his evil throughout the world!

LEVEL ONE - CITY STREETS

The game begins with you patrolling the streets of your city. Dr. Mayhem's drones are everywhere! Eliminate everything on one street and then then the store owners will unlock their doors. Go in to the shops and get extra power-ups. Repeat the process for each street and when the city is safe you will get a message to go to C Street where the Dynatron Blimp will take you to your next mission!

THE CAST

At the beginning of the of the game you get to pick which character you want to use as the leader of your party. You can select from either Jet Headstrong, Ms. Megawatt or Radium Dog. The system will then assign three other Defenders - Toolbox, Monkey Kid and Buzzsaw Girl to your team. Each has unique traits and powers and together all of you must patrol the city in order to eliminate the Robot Drone soldiers, and find the way into the sewers where the evil Dr. Mayhem is holding out.

LEVEL 2 - THE MALL

In the mall you will find a lot of mutants walking by the stores. Blow the aliens away, but be careful because they will put up a good fight. Note that the mall has three levels, and each time you go up a level, the enemy are stronger. The boss is the last one on the third floor, so in order to take him on, make sure that at least one of your players is at full health. If you have money you can buy food and power-ups at the stores as you will need them in the sewers.

LEVEL THREE - THE SEWERS

When you first get into this level go straight to the left, and you will enter the main part of the sewers. In here there are mutated alligators that will be after you. These are the toughest enemies that you have seen to this point, so be extra careful. Once you kill all of the alligators, make your way to the Proto Cola factory for the next mission.

When you are in the bar, you'll fight some punks and then come across a large boss who won't let you by without a good brawl. Defeat him and you will get a shotgun, clothes and the motorcycle you'll need.

LEVEL 1

THE BATTLE FOR TOMORROW BEGINS TODAY!

It has been ten years since the first terminator appeared from the future and travelled to the past to eliminate Sarah Connor. Since its failure, Sky-Net has decided to make up for their past mistake and send a new terminator to kill Sarah's son, John who is the leader of the resistance. They have also made an advanced terminator to replace the old T-800 model, called the T-1000. This new form of killing machine has the ability to change form by metamorphosis of its liquid metal body, which will make it very hard to kill. You take on the role of the T-800 who was reprogrammed by the future John Connor to travel back and stop the T-1000 from killing John as a boy. Run into a variety of punks and tough guys who will gang up on you and try to stop your progress. You need to punch them and follow the arrows further through the level. Jump over motorcycles and go into the bar to beat the big guys that have the clothes you need. Get on your motorcycle and start pumping lead. Storylines and cinema displays will put you in the middle of the action. The future of mankind depends on you!

MALKIL IS BACK...

You've fought with the evil Malkil several times before but he keep s coming back. His evil magic is strong and this time he now controls not only the royal Palace, but also the minds of all the people in the city of Piedup.

Your mission is to get to the Palace and defeat Malkil. However, to do this you must first locate and obtain the four sacred Mega Gems as only with them, will you be able to get to the palace. These gems are spread out throughout the mines, labyrinth and dungeons of the UnderWorld of Piedup. Protecting these Gems though, are huge creatures, Guardians and the fearsome Dungeon Master.

You can get help. Some of the people will grant you a transformation power if you find and return important statues. Do this and these people will grant you the power to change into a silver knight, a wizard or a thief. Each has different powers and abilities. In addition, by being disguised, you may be able to sneak past some of the Guardians instead of having to fight! It's the longest and hardest quest yet but with patience and perseverance, good will overpower evil once again!

The city of Piedup is made up of many different houses, shops and other buildings. First you must get money and then go into shop A to buy extra keys. Next, get the drone thieves statue in Shop B and go to the Thieve's Guild (location C) where your quest will begin.

THE MANY WORLDS OF PIEDUP...

The city is divided into the OverWorld and the UnderWorld. The majority of your quest though, will take place in the UnderWorld. This section is divided up into the Mines, the Labyrinth and the Dungeons.

FIGHT THE GUARDIANS

Guardians protect the important rooms. Try different disguises against the Guardians.

THE THREE FACES OF KURO

Through the game Kuros will have to disguise himself. He starts out as a knight and can turn into a thief or a wizard when he completes a Guild.

DON'T LET THE LAND FALL INTO EXILE!!!!

Ever since the beginning of time, nature has controlled life on this planet. It even controls man. Man must live with nature in every aspect of his life. He has no way to control nature, so he must be content with every part of it - from the sunshine to the storms, earth quakes, and nature disasters. Nature is the ultimate power, and man is greatly attracted to this power. From this he has learned that with power comes control.

This has made the history of man one of war and blood shed. In wars people take sides. Big powerful countries attack and conquer weak small countries, and a great number of lives are lost in these wars, but the generals of the armies don't care about lives. All they care about is the amount of land they will conquer and the number of people they will control. In the end, the one who stands victorious and has conquered the most land becomes a superpower.

At one time a wandering desert warrior, named Sadre, defeated one of these superpower, and brought peace back to the lands. This peace was enjoyed for many years, but this peace was soon to come to an end because a new force is rising. This force is know to all as Luciel - a neighbor rivaling town. The people of the lands cried out for help from Sadre. Now Sadre must once again get his sword and prepare for battle!

DUNES VILLAGE

You start out in the village. As you walk around you come to an exit but there is a man blocking your exit. In order to get out you will have to first talk to everybody in the town. You may even have to talk to some people twice because some will tell you different things depending on who you have already talked to. By the time you leave this town you should have two addition people in your party.

THE DESERT

Before you make your way out of town you will learn about a strange man that is walking in the desert. Once out of the town, go to the desert and look for this old man. When you find him he will give you new information about your quest. Other than the old man, there isn't anyone else in the desert. However, if you look around very closely you will find one very important place. This spot will be revealed by walking over a specific area, so walk everywhere, even the places that look like you won't be able to walk on. If you step in the right place you will fall into a cave.

Once in the cave you won't be playing the game in the classic RPG style, but you will be playing one that is more like a side scrolling action/adventure game with various enemies attacking you. These side scrolling action screens resemble the ones in Zelda 2 and Y's 3.

Your character will be armed with a sword, and your power will increase as your levels go up. You will want to go up a couple of levels before you decide to take on the boss as he is exceptionally strong. Make sure that you check every corner of this maze because there are hidden treasure chests containing valuable items!

TOKI

PRIMAL INSTINCTS...

It is the time of humans. Though not long since their ascendancy in the food chain, humans have made incredible leaps and bounds toward paradise. Toki, a strong, gentle human male, was relaxing with his female soul mate when the ground began to shake. Off in the distance, a great fortress rose from the mountains. Suddenly, a disembodied hand swooped out from the fortress and grabbed Toki's woman! Soon after, the Dark Lord Stark appeared and digressed Toki to an apeman. His quest to save his beloved must not be thwarted, so he continued on despite his predicament...

In his apeman form, Toki can control certain primal forces which allow him to spew projectiles from his mouth. He must travel through nine dangerous levels to the Dark Lord's mountain fortress, picking up several power-ups that will assist him along the way. These powers last for a short time, but enough are strewn about to keep Toki strong and agile.

Toki was originally a marvelous, though little heard of, coin-op game. The Genesis translation use the same colorful backgrounds, incorporating full scrolling in every direction, a major delight to the coin-op fans across the country. The bosses are the same, but they have shifted levels somewhat. Otherwise, the awesome graphic details are vibrantly intact, and the musical score is superbly mastered.

As Toki, you must learn to swim, jump, crawl, bounce, climb, and shoot the powerful force balls accurately and precisely. Each end-of-round boss has a specific personality and attack. Stark's Machine will attempt to crush or incinerate you, but all you need to do is blast his six heads. Primeval will send evil apes after you, and try to stomp on your head! Boomer, the third level submarine boss, will send primate missiles in your direction, and then try to smash you against the reefs. His head is his only weakness so spread shots will be especially helpful.

Besides enemies and bosses, the ground itself isn't very helpful! In fact, thorny stalagmites grow from the soil in an attempt to skewer you where you stand. Certain rocky ledges fall apart after you walk on them, making the chasms loom even farther apart. Watch your step!

PRIMAL METHODS...

As Toki, you have two basic attack techniques. First and foremost, you can shoot primal breath balls from your mouth. This is your main form of attack and should be mastered first. The second form of attack is similar to the Mario-style of enemy-bashing. Jump on the enemies' heads to send them reeling into oblivion! Unfortunately, this attacking style doesn't work on round bosses so learn it strictly as a defensive measure.

Level One trains Toki in the ways of a simian savior, looking for his lost love and humanity. The enemies pose little threat to Toki, and this makes Level One an excellent place to stock up on lives and food. Shoot the six heads of Stark's Machine.

In Level Two, Toki must traverse great caverns, cliffs, and pitfalls to reach the second round boss. The Super Sneakers will help Toki jump the wide chasms with ease, but watch out! They don't last very long. Primaval awaits your arrival.

Level Three is an underwater level! It's a good thing Toki can swim. Numerous secret areas hide special power-ups like 1ups and more attack power! The round boss, Boomer, charges at Toki after sending a barrage of missiles his way.

PRIMAL LOVE...

Toki will not rest until he finds his soul mate! Even in the form of an apeman, he knows what he what do. The evil Lord Stark must be destroyed to return peace to the fair countryside (not to mention return Toki to his normal handsome self!) His fem ale love is trapped in the immense fortress, awaiting some grim ritual to bring back the ancient dragon race, so he must move quickly!

It is strongly rumored that the Dark Lord Stark is a descendant of the long lost race of dragons! Stark believes that dragons were the rightful rulers of the Earth, but were usurped by a freak accident eons ago, causing the uprise of humans.

Toki should appear around January 1992, sporting 4 Meg of intense one-player action! Save a lost love, free the world from ancient evils! One fair warning, however, Toki may just bring out the animal in you...

PRIMAL FORCES...

Even as an ape, Toki has many weapons available to him. His breath attacks have six different power ups, each with varying degrees of power versus precision. The Super Sneakers will send Toki high into the air when he jumps and speed up his walk. The Lucky Star gives Toki temporary invincibility!

Play the flute to open some of the locked doors.

Strong weapons and armor are needed to take on the bosses.

coins. The gold you will be able to use to buy better weapons and stronger armor, or to rejuvenate your health. You will start out with your Gradus sword but you will want to upgrade that as soon as possible. Once properly equipped you are ready to fight your way through the various islands, caves and underground passages. Learn the secrets of playing the flute as the right tune will open some of the locked doors. Also, make sure you talk to the fairy queen as she will give you a helper to aid you in your journey. Use magic against huge bosses and don't forget to look in treasure chests as they hold the secrets to ways into new sections of the game.

The hottest game on ice.

MARIO LEMIEUX HOCKEY™

You won't find a more scorching game of hockey than new, Mario Lemieux Hockey from Sega™ Genesis™. The video game that gives you all the fast and furious action of real, pro hockey.

Throw body-crushing checks into the glass. Send guys tumbling and spinning across the ice. Pass to an open winger for the give and go. Then break free at mid-ice to connect. And slam home a 90 mph slap shot. Make dazzling kick and glove saves. And saves that send you sprawling across the ice. Pull from three sets of frontliners. You'll face everything the pros do as you battle your way to the top of a 16 league team.

Close-ups of every skirmish, shoot-out and face-off make it all too real. There's even fourteen pages of stats to flip through after each period. Just to help you keep track of it all.

New, Mario Lemieux Hockey from Sega Genesis. With action like this, anything else will leave you cold.

ATTACK IRAQ...!

While not the first air combat simulation for the Genesis, F-22 by Electronic Arts, is easily the best to date. Featuring polygon graphics, smooth software scrolling and true-to-life missions, this simulation places you in the cockpit of the awesome F-22 fighter. This jet is loaded with the newest high-tech goodies and you'll need them all when you go up against the best ace pilots flying the fastest of the MIG fighters. With three difficulty levels, dozens of different missions over popular countries like the U.S., Korea, Iraq and Russia, you'll have your hands full just trying to keep the jet in the air as the enemy is waiting for you. Kick in the afterburners as you roar into battle with multiple land, sea and air targets that include tanks, SCUD missile bases and anti-aircraft batteries. You can even switch to an outside perspective to view your plane as you fly!

WEAPONS OF DESTRUCTION!!

AGM 65a MAVERICK TV GUIDED MISSILE

These baby's can be guided once they are fired! To guide them, you must align the cross-hairs on your monitor with your target.

AIM 9N SIDEWINDER HEAT SEEKING MISSILE

Launch these when you have a target locked on. These missiles rarely miss, and will destroy anything! Use them wisely!

It's not even close. The massive Sega Genesis library is an insane line-up of more than 150 titles. Compared to... well, you get the picture. But we're not just talking numbers here. Genesis is going off with unreal new games like Sonic the Hedgehog,SM Spider-Man,SM ToeJam and Earl,SM Golden Axe IISM and Joe Montana II

Sports Talk Football.SM Any one of these would be enough to blister your thumbs for weeks. So for the best selection of arcade games, action/adventure, role playing, sports, you name it, check out the Genesis library. Nothing else stacks up.

Your Announcer

This is your announcer for today's game. He will talk about the two teams at the beginning and update the score and show highlights during the game.

BASEBALL FEVER!

Another addition to the TV Sports series is coming to the Turbo. This time it's TV Sports Baseball and it features all the great multi-player action as found on the other two TV Sports titles (Football and Basketball). With controls very similar to the other games, TV Sports Baseball will be more of what you're used to. In this version, you can play solo, with a friend or the ultimate - four players simultaneously! You must battle with 9 other teams to become World Series Champion! You first start by choosing from three different fields to play on - either a grass field (amateur status), a minor league field, or the hardest - a domed major league field. The animation in the game is very smooth, and the characters react well to the controller functions resulting in good play control all around. The characters not only react to you, but also the characters around them. For example, if you make three strikes in a row, the character breaks his bat. If you are after a fly ball, your player will sometimes bump into other teammates on the field. It is realistic baseball with a touch of originality.

The pitcher batter screen is done quite well to allow you to not only watch the ball but also to keep track of your base runners. Watch out for the computer team as it is tough!

If you have a few friends at your house connect up the TurboTap and plug in 4 pads! The game is a blast when it is two against two!

SPORTS TV BASEBALL

After picking your starting teams, your players take the field and all through the game an announcer will come on and update you on the score, and major highlights, like a stolen base, or a home run. He will also comment on scores, teams, player stats, and starting lineup for today's game.

Plug in the Turbotap and invite over everyone you know to play an all out baseball brawl to the finish. It's a new twist on baseball and if you're ready for real multi-player action you'll find it only on the Turbo. Coming to your game system early in 1992!

F-15 STRIKE EAGLE

Major Wild Bill Stealey, President of MicroProse.

Real Pilots Don't Just Play F-15 Strike Eagle, They Help Design It

Meet "Major Wild Bill" Stealey:

"Life for a fighter pilot is that gut-wrenching adrenalin rush you get when going supersonic with heat-seeking missiles hot on your tail, pulling into a hard turn while warning displays light up the cockpit — and as an Air Force Academy grad with over 4,000 hours of military flight, I ought to know! Real pilots know that feeling, and real pilots also know that F-15 Strike Eagle is the only NES™ game to deliver the authentic dogfighting experience, because F-15 is designed by real pilots, and real military simulation experts. Find out for yourself. Play F-15 Strike Eagle and see what real dogfighting is all about."

- Thrilling real-life missions in the Persian Gulf
 - Destroy chemical weapons plants
 - Blast entrenched forces with high-tech weaponry
 - Shoot down enemy fighters
 - Dodge incoming enemy missiles
- Authentic Combat Flight Maneuvers & Tactics!
 - Real loops, rolls and high-speed turns
 - Dogfight in a full 3-D world that lets you go where you want
 - Outsmart enemy pilots trying to shoot you down

WIN BIG WITH EGM!

Get ready for the ultimate video game contest only from EGM! Each month we will be giving away one copy of each of the games profiled in our Fact File columns! To enter, simply detach the reader survey card, answer the questions and mark which system or systems you own. We will then award one lucky winner a copy of all of the games contained in our Fact-File section for the system indicated in question three! It's that easy! Act fast - the deadline for entering for our January games is February 1!

The following companies are contributing to this contest: Konami/Ultra, Hudson Soft, Asmik, Sunsoft, Lucasfilm, American Software Corporation, Jaleco, Hot-B, Acclaim/LJN, Renovation, Sega, Treco, Electronic Arts, Capcom, and Atari.

ENTERING IS EASY:

- 1) Fill out the Reader Service Card.
 - 2) Answer the Survey Questions and Pick the Systems that You Own.
 - 3) Mail your Readers Service Card to:
Electronic Gaming Monthly
P.O. Box 8965
Boulder, CO 80328-8965
- Winners will be listed in the Mar. EGM!

Contest Rules: All entries must be received before February 1, 1991. EGM or the judges are not liable for lost or misdirected mail. One entry per person, multiple entries will be disqualified. Prizes are not transferable. Illegible or incomplete entries are ineligible. Void where prohibited. The decision of the judges is final. No purchase necessary to enter. Contest is not open to employees of Sendai Publishing Group, Inc. or to members of an immediate family. Taxes are the responsibility of the winner. Approximate value of prizes is $800 U.S. Prizes provided by participating companies and Sendai Publishing Group. Prizes will be forwarded to winner when final production copies are available courtesy of Sendai Publications. One prize per household. Determination of winners will be made through random drawing. The decision of the judges is final.

First, pick your type of game, then pick your team. After you have done this, select the field you would like to play on. Each of the three baseball parks has its own advantages and disadvantages. Learn their characteristics, but it's still best to start as an amateur and work your way up to the majors!

PLAY IN 3 LEAGUES...

As you get better, you can move up in league status. It's best to start off as amateurs and learn your ball playing techniques in the Green Field. Then, give the minors a try and step up to Maxwell Park. This park is the one that you are given when you begin a new series. Only when you have mastered the controls and can consistently beat the computer, should you think about major league status. When you're ready though, move into the dome - Comte Stadium.

The Future's A Blast!

It's the year 2029 and humanity faces certain extinction! An alien force led by their Supreme Commander Vile Malmort is positioned to destroy the Earth.

The President has little time to act. He assembles the greatest scientists from around the globe to stop this menace. From their laboratory came mankind's last hope—the members of S.C.A.T.

The Special Cybernetic Attack Team has one goal; the utter destruction of the alien fleet. "They've sent an armada to conquer us. We've sent two warriors from S.C.A.T.... It should be a fair fight."

- Capture and adapt multiple weapons systems.
- 1 or 2 player cooperative play.

BRIDGE ZONE

In this level, you will have to be quick! You'll find bridges collapsing below your feet, and robotic fish jumping out of the water for a quick meal!

GREEN HILL ZONE

Similar to Genesis version, this is the zone where you'll find lots of hidden rings!

NOW, I'M REALLY ON THE GO!

WHOOAH! That Dr. Robotnick will just never quit! Well, now I'm off collecting the rings and chaos emeralds all over again, but I have to be cautious, because I've even more places to go, like a vine-filled jungle, bridges that collapse under my feet, and even a gigantic warship! No time to talk, I've got to get going, as those badniks are hot on my spiny back, so adios amigos! See you in the comics!

SONIC

LABYRINTH ZONE

In this stage, you'll slide into action down to the bottom of the pond where new aquatic dangers await you!

JUNGLE ZONE

Keep watch, because you're going to find all sorts of pitfalls as you pass waterfalls, spinning logs, and skewering spikes.

SCRAP BRAIN ZONE

Proceed carefully as you ride on conveyor belts and battle with new mechanical misfits. Watch out for the swinging rotary blades!

SKY BASE ZONE

The final zone! Pursue the Doc through electrified areas and on to a huge battle bloop!

ALL THE ANIMATION IS BACK!

SONIC THE HEDGEHOG

Get 50 rings and go to the bonus round!

Devilish

Breaking Up Is Hard To Do.

Especially when you're playing this game. If you think you've seen this one before, you're right. And wrong. You see, our game is much, much, more complicated, with monstrous enemies, high-tech UFO's, and walls and walls of blockades. So we gave you two paddles, offensive and defensive, just to even up the odds. But don't get us wrong. You'll like this game. You'll just have a devilish of a time getting through it alive.

THE DEADLY BOSS ROBOTS

At the end of each area, there is an evil android out to blast you into wafer-thin sections. It's up to you to stop them and make your way to Dr. Wily!

THE MEGA ACTION, AND THE MEGA ADVENTURE CONTINUES...

Mega Man World for GameBoy was such a hit when it came out last year, that Capcom has decided to expand its popularity to a second installment. Mega Man World 2 for GameBoy is on its way, and it looks hot. With all of the action of the previous Mega Man carts, this one features the stars of Mega Man 2 on the NES. It mostly focuses on originality, following along the lines of the Mega Man style that you remember from the Nintendo version. There are 8 main levels, each of them led by a maniacal Boss robot. The first four are Air Man, Wood Man, Clash Man, and Metal Man. You will probably recognize them from Mega Man 2 on NES. The last four are Needle Man, Hard Man, Magnet Man, and Top Man from Mega Man 3. Only the first four are selectable at the beginning. The last two levels are Dr. Wily's castle, and his Space fortress. At the end of the space fortress, you face Dr. Wily himself. Is this the final battle? Will this crazed scientist ever give up? Only time will tell. Until then, check out Mega Man World 2!

PICK AND CHOOSE YOUR WEAPONS FOR YOUR DANGEROUS MISSION!

THE GRADIUS SERIES...

AND NOW...THE NEWEST VERSION...

The Bacterion Empire is back in action and has launched a counterattack on our galaxy. Get ready to take on five new levels of deep space explosive action. With dual scrolling 3-D type backgrounds, three different pre-attack modes, and the familiar 6 level power-up gauge, this cart has it all! Blow through the gauntlet of alien defenses to get to the boss and show him who's really the boss! It's a 2 meg blaster that's guaranteed to please!

STAGE ONE

Fly into the Bacterion empire through an asteroid belt, and down into ancient ruins. Take on a huge end of round alien plant which shoots spore-like bombs and killer insectoids out at your ship!

STAGE TWO

In the Mechanical Zone, you are bound to be in for major surprise attacks. Watch the walls as many turrets and traps are cleverly placed in positions that are sure to spell out certain death for many!

STAGE THREE

Fly deep into the heart of yet another asteroid belt. Unfortunately, this one is not as simple as the previous encounter. Make sure that your ship is fully powered up, as the boss is an old familiar enemy!

STAGE FOUR

The ultimate dogfight! Dive down to the home planet's surface to take on the whole enemy armada for this battle! Watch out for the waves of ships as well as hidden turrets and huge walkers!

AN EYE FOR AN EYE!

The battle heats up as you find yourself deeper in the territory of the crime syndicate. You must fight your way to the penthouse of the Main Boss and dethrone him once and for all. The U.S. National Video Game Team will guide you through the final stages of this great game. We'll give you the best in strategy and the latest techniques from the best players in the world. Look for an in-depth section on techniques to defeat each of the characters in the game as well as the best way to polish off the leader of this bunch of thugs.

ROUND 5

SPECIAL TECHNIQUES!

Now the Bosses get a little tougher than in the previous levels. You must master a series of techniques if you want to come out of these levels alive. When fighting the terrible twins in level 5 you should not use any jumpkicks. The best way to defeat them is to try to concentrate on one at a time. One of the girls will repeatedly use jumpkicks. When she jump-kicks towards you, hit the attack and jump buttons for a reverse kick. If you get the timing down right she will never hit you. The other girl does flips and tries to get you into a back crunch. When she flips, try to get behind her and then grab her. Do a couple of knee slams and then throw her into the other girl. When fighting the two Razorhand dudes, also try to concentrate on one enemy at a time. Get in front of him, and do two punches, then grab him and knee slam him twice. End with a nice back crunch and do it again. If you are high on energy save the meat for as long as possible. Grab it only when you really need it.

Use the extra special weapon against the terrible twins for best results.

END OF LEVEL BOSSES!

DOWN UNDER DAN

The best way to defeat this oversized thug is to grab him and give him two knee slams and then back crunch him.

RAY ZDRHAND

Don't use jumpkicks or you'll get a taste of those blades. Get in close and grab him. Do two knee slams then back crunch him.

THE ULTIMATE WRESTLER

This guy is fast! The easiest way to get rid of him is to stay in one place let him run right into your jumpkicks.

MIKE THE MAULER

This guy likes to run you over. All you have to do is grab him and knee slam twice, let go and repeat till he's gone.

SWITCHBLADE SHERRI

Probably the toughest character you'll face. The only thing that seems to be effective is the reverse kick.

THE CRIME SYNDICATE!

TERRIBLE TERRY

Two punches, grab him and knee slam twice, then throw him into an enemy is the preferred way of getting rid of this nuisance.

SPEARHEAD STEVE

This guy's annoying. Two punches, two knee slams, and a back crunch are all you need to get rid of this guy.

PSYCHO CINDY

Never trust a girl with a whip. Just grab her and knee slam her twice, then give her a nice back crunch to finish it off.

KUNG FU CHARLIE

Don't let his moves scare you. The quickest way to get rid of him is to grab him and do two knee slams, let go and repeat.

RENEGADE RON

This punk will throw axes or torches at you. Remember rapid punches are the only way to get rid of his weapons.

WINNERS DON'T USE DRUGS!

The only thing to remember here is that criminals are heavier than air. So give them a toss over the edge.

ROUND 7

LAST BOSS!

THE FINAL BATTLE!
You've finally made it to the penthouse lair where the leader of the crime syndicate awaits you. He'll send a few of his henchmen out to greet you before actually fighting you himself. Watch out for his machine gun, jump over the shots to avoid contact. Don't use jumpkicks against him because he will knock you out of the air. Now go put an end to the crime wave in your city...

When he starts to fire his machine gun, jump over the stray shots.

Backcrunches are the most effective move that you can do to defeat him.

Keep fighting, victory is almost in your hands.

MEGA MAN 4

MORE MEGA ACTION!!

That's right Mega Man is back for his fourth adventure. In this version you will learn a lot about the history of Mega Man as to how a courageous man named Rock was turned into Mega Man in order to face Dr. Willy and return peace back to the galaxy. You learn this through a series of cinema displays in the beginning of the game. However, you don't only find out about the creation of Mega Man, but you also find out how Dr. Willy got to be such a threat.

It all started one day when Dr. Light created new industrial robots that could do the work of a thousand men. These robots worked fine for a while but one day the robots just started to trash the whole city. There was one person behind all of this - Dr. Willy. Mega Man has fought with Dr. Willy before, but when the battle was over, Dr. Willy always managed to escape. Now Mega man must take on a new batch of berserk robots in Mega Man 4. While this game is much like the previous series, but there is a whole new batch of weapons, and bosses. In this game you will have to battle through two castles. Dr. Willy awaits you in one, but there is an unknown force waiting to do battle with you for the first time. The U.S. National Video Game Team will take you through this new Mega Man adventure with a series of maps and tips. Again, only in EGMI!

Don't jump over these holes right away as enemies fly out. Wait for them then jump.

When you walk on these platforms they will move from under you. If you can't jump to the other end, then do the Mega slide. This will speed Mega Man up and you will slide to the other side. Be careful not to slide too far. To get out of a slide jump straight up.

To get this energy pellet without losing life, wait until the platform has made a place for you to fall down, then get the power pellet and jump right back up.

MEGA BUSTER!!

You can now power-up Mega Man's gun. The longer you hold the button the stronger it gets!

This is the basic form of attack that you have when you just push the button once. You have an unlimited supply of bullets.

Your Mega gun will shoot this out if you hold down the button for a short while. Mega Man will be flashing blue.

This is the most powerful of the shots from the Mega gun. You have to hold the button down until Mega Man turns green.

RING MAN

This is the first boss that you should face because he is the easiest one to beat with your

Mega buster. The first thing that you should notice is that your regular gun doesn't work as effectively against the bosses. Before you enter the boss's room, you should power up your Mega buster, and keep the button pushed down until the boss's power meter is filled up. Let go of the button, and immediately start recharging your Mega Buster. When Ring Man shoots at you, jump over his shots, and when he charges you, jump over him and jump his first shot, and then shoot. Repeat this until Ring Man is dead.

DUST MAN

You should beat Ring Man before you try to fight Dust Man because if you use your Ring weapon on Dust Man it will be a lot easier to defeat Dust Man. When Dust Man fires at you, his shots are high enough to jump over. After he fires a couple of times he will try to suck you towards him like a vacuum. Hit him with your ring when you get a chance.

This part can be tricky, but it is really very easy. There is one bad spot that you have to watch out for, and that is towards the end where the pillars come down to the ground. Try to shoot away as many blocks before running under the pillars.
